City Police Are Behind 40 Hours

Sign Petition For Whole State

Statewide and local bids for Gov. Averell Harriman's signature on the policemen's 40-hour work week bill were under way this week, Peter Keresman, police conference secretary, and Meyer Levy, president of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association, revealed today.

Keresman, a resident of this city, said police units of the state were alerted to add to the support of their community organizations in the bid to gain Gov. Harriman's signature on the bill, which was unanimously passed in both houses of the legislature.

THE 40-HOUR work week has been effective here for more than a year, but local patrolmen are back of the bill that would make it general practice because they feel it better's police efficiency.

The local association's letter to the governor said:

"On behalf of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association, I sincerely urge your approval of Assembly Int. 2695 by Mr. Volker, which provides for the extension of the 40-hour week to all policemen, except in emergency or change in tours of duty, now before you for executive action.

"THE EXTENSION of the 40-hour week is not only sound public policy, but is consistent with the present day needs. It has been our experience, since the 40-hour week was extended to our members that it has greatly increased police efficiency.

"We feel confident that extending these same working conditions to all policemen would be very beneficial to the community, and would serve as an inducement to attract qualified men for police service.

"I AM PLEASED to attach a list signed by our members requesting your approval of Assembly Int. 2695. You may be assured that we will be grateful for your consideration in this matter."

The letter was signed by Meyer Levy, as president of the association. He reported that all members of the local department signed a petition, which was sent to the governor with the letter.

Keresman noted that although the 40-hour week has been "common law" in the nation for a decade, and although government, business and industry have found it profitable, opposition could be expected to reach the governor.

THE CONFERENCE secretary recalled the "vehement" opposition back in 1929 when police sought executive approval of legislation specifying a day off in seven. Again the same, he said, "when the legislature sent to the governor measures giving police the right to court review of charges, and clarification of civil liability."

Keresman asked: "In what condition would the police job be

Vaccine Due April 27, World to Get Formula

Ike Orders Salk Count For Nation

Augusta, Ga., April 14 (AP)—President Eisenhower today ordered a federal survey to determine how to assure that all sections of the nation get a fair share of the Salk polio vaccine.

The Chief Executive directed Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare to make such a survey and report to him.

IN ANNOUNCING the move at the President's vacation headquarters, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen the emphasis will be on voluntary rather than compulsory methods to assure fair distribution of the polio preventive developed by Dr. Jonas Salk.

The press secretary said Mrs. Hobby's conferences with medical groups will be along these lines:

"1. To make sure the channels of distribution of the vaccine are kept open.

"2. To make sure that every section of the nation has equal opportunity to obtain the vaccine."

AFTER TALK OF 'BLACK MARKET'—Sen. Lister Hill (D.-Ala.) shakes hands with Secretary of Welfare Oveta Culp Hobby in Washington, April 13, after the senator said a nationwide conference should be called by President Eisenhower to choke off any "black market" in the newly approved Salk polio vaccine. Hill made his suggestion to Mrs. Hobby, who said the idea has merit. She did not, however, give the idea outright endorsement, saying she doubted a black market would develop. (AP Wirephoto)

Goodwill Is Proposal of President

March of Dimes Is Lauded by Kelly

Latest announcements on Salk polio vaccine are that local inoculations may be started the week of April 25, and that the whole world will be informed about the formula to stamp out infantile paralysis.

Dr. Dudley W. Hargrave, Ulster county health commissioner, in announcing the tentative date for receiving vaccine, said that children in this area who received the control substance in last year's trials would have first priority.

In Washington, D. C., President Eisenhower said data on the Salk vaccine will be distributed by the government as a goodwill gesture to nations around the world, including those behind the iron curtain.

LISTS ARE now being decoded locally and parents of children in that group will be notified in a few days, Dr. Hargrave said.

He stressed the fact that no inoculations will be given without the written consent of parents and he advised parents who may have lost their consent slips to ask for new ones at their school.

William A. Kelly, chairman of the Ulster County Chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, today expressed his "eternal gratitude to all who cooperated in past March of Dimes campaigns which made the research possible." He noted that the drives will have to be continued for some years to provide for treatment and rehabilitation of patients.

KELLY ALSO noted that the success of the research financed by March of Dimes funds should serve as "a beacon light for every other drive in the health field. This shows in graphic fashion what can be done when everybody gets together to pool their efforts in attacking a serious problem."

Since findings on the effectiveness of the paralysis preventive have been widely published, the plan announced last night at the direction of President appeared to be aimed at showing this country's humanitarian feelings, the Associated Press reported.

There was no plan to send any of the vaccine itself abroad, although Secretary of State Dulles announced he would explore the possibilities with other government officials.

THE COMMERCE department yesterday clamped an export embargo on the product, and official held no hope that supplies would be large enough to permit sending any abroad before 1957.

The State Department said Dulles planned to send copies of Tuesday's report giving a favorable appraisal of the Salk vaccine to the 75 American missions abroad.

These missions include embassies in Poland and Russia, which presumably would furnish copies to Communist nations like Red China which this country does not recognize.

DULLES SAID the report on last summer's tests is being sent to countries "around the world so that they may have the benefit of this humanitarian research project as well as the information on the Salk formula itself."

Watkins Defends State Department Handling of Immigration Program

Washington, April 14 (AP)—Sen. Watkins (R.-Utah) defended today the State Department's administration of the refugee immigration program against Edward Corsi's charge it has been "a scandalous failure."

Watkins steered the 1953 refugee act through the Senate and is a member of a Senate judiciary subcommittee which has called Corsi for closed-door questioning (2 p. m. EST) in an inquiry into operation of the law.

The subcommittee quickly swung into an investigation late yesterday amid a continuing furor over Secretary of State Dulles' dismissal of Corsi as a special adviser on refugee problems.

Watkins said that while the program has been moving more slowly than he would like, "I think that under all the circumstances they have done a good job."

HE ALSO SAID in an interview that he was satisfied that the slowness in admitting refugees to this country under the program is not due to any desire by State Department officials to avoid carrying out the law.

The Italian-born Corsi, a prominent New York Republican, declared after his dismissal that "an intolerant minority" in Congress and the State Department had sabotaged the program. It was designed to bring up to 214,000 refugees and other nonquota immigrants to this country by the end of next year.

Corsi named Rep. Walter (D-Pa.), who had accused him of past associations with groups later listed as Communist fronts, and R. W. Scott McLeod, State Department security chief who is administrator of the program.

THE JUDICIARY subcommittee, headed by Sen. Langer (R-N.D.), questioned McLeod about the operation of the program for over two hours yesterday at a closed-door session.

Langer said McLeod probably would be questioned further late today, after the subcommittee has heard from Corsi. He said Gen. J. M. Swing, commissioner of the Immigration Service, also has been called to testify.

"We'll probably have open hearings Friday," Langer told newsmen. "We're going to try desperately to clean the whole thing up this week."

One of the complaints voiced by Corsi was that only 1,000 refugees have been admitted under

Upstate Bidder Low on Underpass Job With $24,282

Angelo Micheli of Rensselaer, on a bid of $24,282, was low in the bidding at Albany this morning for improvement of the Broadway underpass drainage and sewer system to prevent future flooding of the street.

The only other bid, $27,200, was by V. J. Constanzi, of Poughkeepsie. The bids were opened in the office of the state public works department. The state's estimated cost of the project was $28,000.

SURCHARGES in the sewer line, as now constructed, caused flooding of the underpass several times during heavy rains.

City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan said the flow of water in the underpass area of Broadway will go into a diversion wier in the area of the McGill property, and whatever is surplus will overflow through Jacob's Valley to the Wilbur area.

PLANS CALL for the revamping of sewer lines on Broadway between Pine Grove avenue and O'Reilly street, and on Pine Grove avenue between Broadway and Susan street. New manholes will be built and the sanitary and storm water flows will be separated. Lock-type manhole covers will be installed.

The city has withheld acceptance of the Broadway grade separation project from the state pending adjustment of the flood conditions during heavy rains.

Electrol Starts Small Night Crew

Electrol, Inc., 85 Grand street, today announced the "re-establishment of a small night shift" starting Monday.

The full night shift of about 100 was discontinued earlier this year because of cuts in orders due to competition in the field of hydraulic airplane parts, which the local plant makes.

About 20 former employes will be brought back as the new night shift starts, management said. It will bring the plant's total personnel to 410.

Southwest U. S. Plagued by More Damaging Storms

(By The Associated Press)

More rain fell in the drenched and flood-plagued southeast section of the nation today after yesterday's damaging storms.

Flood waters menaced areas in three states, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana after the heaviest rains of the season. The most severe floods since 1948 were predicted for south and central Alabama.

Property damage already was estimated at hundreds of thousands of dollars. Three deaths were attributed to the violent weather and floods.

MORE THAN 13 inches of rain fell in Mobile, Ala. Severe windstorms lashed areas in Mississippi. Travel, both air and land, was curtailed.

Two automobiles were reported to have plunged off a bridge 17 miles south of Natchez, Miss., after a 100-foot piece of the concrete structure was torn out by the flooding Homochitto river. The surging river wrecked a new $250,000

Jersey Man Takes Title To Flatbush Area Land

Hal C. Purdy Gives No Indication For Use of Recently Deeded Acres

A Morristown, N. J., man has taken title to approximately 120 acres in the Flatbush area of the town of Ulster.

Deeds filed at the Ulster County Clerk's office name Hal C. Purdy of 7 Albert avenue, Morristown, as the purchaser of land near Route 32 and the Ulster Landing road.

One deed conveys two parcels, one containing approximately 44.1 acres and the other 8.9 acres, from Dwyer Lighterage, Inc., 20 West Strand, to Purdy. Consideration on the deed was stated as $1 "and other good and valuable consideration." Tax stamps affixed to the document totaled $24.75.

ANOTHER DEED lists Anna Marie Hajek of RD 3, town of Ulster, as seller of 44.33 acres along with a right-of-way to Route 32. Tax stamps totaled $17.05.

Frank C. Moak and Mary M. Moak, his wife, sold 22.76 acres in the same general location to Purdy. Tax stamps totaled $6.60.

For several months, Purdy has been taking options on large amounts of property in the area along the river south of the Kingston - Rhinebeck bridge which is under construction.

MUCH SPECULATION has been heard as to the possible use of the land, but property owners in the area have maintained that Purdy has never revealed his plans.

Rumors have involved such large firms as General Motors, General Electric, and Westinghouse. Others have speculated that IBM was obtaining the land for a country club. There has been no confirmation.

It is generally believed that the three deeds now on file at the county clerk's office are only the first of a number of deeds that will be granted to Purdy.

Labor Secretary Sticks to 90-Cent Minimum Wage

Washington, April 14 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Mitchell testified today that boosting the statutory minimum wage to $1.25 an hour would be "unsound" and raising it to $1 "would cause very serious adjustments in some industries."

Under questioning by a Senate Labor subcommittee, Mitchell stuck tightly to the 90-cent figure recommended by President Eisenhower earlier this year. It would be a 15-cent rise from the present 75-cent minimum wage.

Mitchell said he knows of "no sound reason" why the minimum wage should not be extended employes of interstate chain stores, interstate hotel and motion picture chains, and some other workers—about two million in all.

"PROSPERITY enjoyed by the overwhelming majority of Americans should not blind us to the minority of workers of low income," Mitchell told the subcommittee.

Eisenhower proposed in his State of the Union message in January that the minimum wage be raised to 90 cents and coverage of the law extended to some additional workers. He did not specify what workers he had in mind.

LABOR UNIONS have been urging a minimum wage of $1.25, a figure which has drawn public support from Sen. Ives (R.-N.Y.) and some northern Democrats.

Chairman Douglas (D.-Ill.) of the labor subcommittee asked Mitchell if a $1.25 nation-wide minimum would be "unsound," Mitchell said yes. What about

Henry Street First for 1955 Repairs as Stang Promised

Ernest A. Steuding, public works superintendent, today announced that work will begin on the construction of Henry street next Monday.

As promised by Mayor Frederick H. Stang last fall, he said, the project will be the first on the 1955 street program to be rebuilt.

Rebuilding of the street, he said, will include "scarifying and regrading of the present pavement material, and use of this material for the sub-grade. The intermediate course will be of crushed stone, to a depth of four inches, and penetrated with pure, hot, liquid asphalt. This will be covered with an inch-and-a-half top of hot mix steam dispersion process asphaltic concrete, which will provide a dust-free, waterproof, top pavement."

Acrown of six inches above the gutter line will be provided in the construction, he explained, "to carry the water to the gutters and catchbasins. Where necessary, new catchbasins will be constructed and the existing ones rebuilt."

The rebuilt street, he said, will look like North Front street and others reconstructed within the past few years.

Bridges Says Democrats Seem Fearful Eisenhower Will Run Again Next Year

Washington, April 14 (AP)—Sen. Bridges (R.-N.H.) said today Democrats seem to be "very fearful" that President Eisenhower will run again in 1956 "and I am very certain he will."

Bridges, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said a Democratic National Committee suggestion that Eisenhower might not be "invincible" as a candidate next year indicates to him the opposition fears the outcome.

"When they go to the lengths of building up a strawman and trying to knock him down a year and a half ahead of the voting, they must be very fearful that Eisenhower will be a candidate again, and I am very certain he will," Bridges said in an interview.

Bridges made it clear his reference to a "strawman" was directed at Democratic Digest efforts to depict Eisenhower as an advocate of "government for the few" and as responsible for an "AWOL — administration without leadership."

The Digest, monthly publication of the national committee, suggested Eisenhower might not be any more "invincible" in 1956 than former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York was in 1948 when he lost to former President Truman.

The Digest listed several issues it said paralleled those of 1948, including taxes, farm prices, Taft-Hartley Labor Relations Act revision, economic and power-reclamation subjects. It said new issues included the Dixon-Yates power contract, school aid and highway programs.

Beyond that the Digest criticized what it called Eisenhower administration "bluffs" in the foreign field, the "numbers racket in the security field," unfilled "pie in the sky promises of 1952"

A Morristown, N. J., man has taken title to approximately 120 acres in the Flatbush area of the town of Ulster.

Deeds filed at the Ulster County Clerk's office name Hal C. Purdy of 7 Albert avenue, Morristown, as the purchaser of land near Route 32 and the Ulster Landing road.

One deed conveys two parcels, one containing approximately 44.1 acres and the other 8.9 acres, from Dwyer Lighterage, Inc., 20 West Strand, to Purdy. Consideration on the deed was stated as $1 "and other good and valuable consideration." Tax stamps affixed to the document totaled $24.75.

ANOTHER DEED lists Anna Marie Hajek of RD 3, town of Ulster, as seller of 44.33 acres along with a right-of-way to Route 32. Tax stamps totaled $17.05.

Frank C. Moak and Mary M. Moak, his wife, sold 22.76 acres in the same general location to Purdy. Tax stamps totaled $6.60.

For several months, Purdy has been taking options on large amounts of property in the area along the river south of the Kingston - Rhinebeck bridge which is under construction.

MUCH SPECULATION has been heard as to the possible use of the land, but property owners in the area have maintained that Purdy has never revealed his plans.

Rumors have involved such large firms as General Motors, General Electric, and Westinghouse. Others have speculated that IBM was obtaining the land for a country club. There has been no confirmation.

It is generally believed that the three deeds now on file at the county clerk's office are only the first of a number of deeds that will be granted to Purdy.

Labor Secretary Sticks to 90-Cent Minimum Wage

Washington, April 14 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Mitchell testified today that boosting the statutory minimum wage to $1.25 an hour would be "unsound" and raising it to $1 "would cause very serious adjustments in some industries."

Under questioning by a Senate Labor subcommittee, Mitchell stuck tightly to the 90-cent figure recommended by President Eisenhower earlier this year. It would be a 15-cent rise from the present 75-cent minimum wage.

Mitchell said he knows of "no sound reason" why the minimum wage should not be extended employes of interstate chain stores, interstate hotel and motion picture chains, and some other workers—about two million in all.

"PROSPERITY enjoyed by the overwhelming majority of Americans should not blind us to the minority of workers of low income," Mitchell told the subcommittee.

Eisenhower proposed in his State of the Union message in January that the minimum wage be raised to 90 cents and coverage of the law extended to some additional workers. He did not specify what workers he had in mind.

LABOR UNIONS have been urging a minimum wage of $1.25, a figure which has drawn public support from Sen. Ives (R.-N.Y.) and some northern Democrats.

Chairman Douglas (D.-Ill.) of the labor subcommittee asked Mitchell if a $1.25 nation-wide minimum would be "unsound," Mitchell said yes. What about

Henry Street First for 1955 Repairs as Stang Promised

Ernest A. Steuding, public works superintendent, today announced that work will begin on the construction of Henry street next Monday.

As promised by Mayor Frederick H. Stang last fall, he said, the project will be the first on the 1955 street program to be rebuilt.

Rebuilding of the street, he said, will include "scarifying and regrading of the present pavement material, and use of this material for the sub-grade. The intermediate course will be of crushed stone, to a depth of four inches, and penetrated with pure, hot, liquid asphalt. This will be covered with an inch-and-a-half top of hot mix steam dispersion process asphaltic concrete, which will provide a dust-free, waterproof, top pavement."

Acrown of six inches above the gutter line will be provided in the construction, he explained, "to carry the water to the gutters and catchbasins. Where necessary, new catchbasins will be constructed and the existing ones rebuilt."

The rebuilt street, he said, will look like North Front street and others reconstructed within the past few years.

Bridges Says Democrats Seem Fearful Eisenhower Will Run Again Next Year

Washington, April 14 (AP)—Sen. Bridges (R.-N.H.) said today Democrats seem to be "very fearful" that President Eisenhower will run again in 1956 "and I am very certain he will."

Bridges, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said a Democratic National Committee suggestion that Eisenhower might not be "invincible" as a candidate next year indicates to him the opposition fears the outcome.

"When they go to the lengths of building up a strawman and trying to knock him down a year and a half ahead of the voting, they must be very fearful that Eisenhower will be a candidate again, and I am very certain he will," Bridges said in an interview.

Bridges made it clear his reference to a "strawman" was directed at Democratic Digest efforts to depict Eisenhower as an advocate of "government for the few" and as responsible for an "AWOL — administration without leadership."

The Digest, monthly publication of the national committee, suggested Eisenhower might not be any more "invincible" in 1956 than former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York was in 1948 when he lost to former President Truman.

The Digest listed several issues it said paralleled those of 1948, including taxes, farm prices, Taft-Hartley Labor Relations Act revision, economic and power-reclamation subjects. It said new issues included the Dixon-Yates power contract, school aid and highway programs.

Beyond that the Digest criticized what it called Eisenhower administration "bluffs" in the foreign field, the "numbers racket in the security field," unfilled "pie in the sky promises of 1952"

Chemical Warfare

Chemical warfare was known as early as 500 B.C., when sulphur and pitch were mixed together, set aflame, and hurled at besiged cities. The German use of chlorine gas, in 1915, marked the beginning of modern chemical warfare.

COMFORT FOR DOG—Floyd Rhoades, of 13 Golf Terrace, recently helped guarantee the future comfort of Mike, a canine traveler in the Rondout sector, known as "everybody's dog." Floyd, a World War 2 veteran and victim of multiple sclerosis, is Ulster county distributor of the K-9 Guardian Collar, and recently placed one on the neck of Mike. The collar, produced by Hughes Industries, 38 East 29th street, New York, is the result of a formula developed by David A. Jones, a native of Sugar Notch, Pa., and now of New York. Discovered only a few years ago, it gained national attention this year, and its producers claim effectiveness against other parasites as well as fleas. (Freeman Photo)

Lenders Becoming More Choosey As Borrowing Is on Increase

New York, April 14 (AP)—It's costing you more to borrow money today.

Lenders here and there are becoming more choosey about handing out their money for mortgages of the no-downpayment, 30 years to run variety.

Businessmen have to pay higher interest now to get short-term funds.

The U. S. Treasury has to pay the highest price since 1953 when it borrows for the short haul.

And the rumor that the Federal Reserve Board will raise its discount rate is being revived. Such a raise would tend to tighten the money supply and raise interest charges all along the line.

THE SLOW but steady increase in interest costs since the first of the year is partly a reflection of the general pickup in business activity and partly the result of the Federal Reserve policy of keeping the credit supply just tight enough to discourage any revival of inflation.

When business picks up as it has in recent months, companies need more money to operate, to carry supplies of materials, to meet bigger payrolls. They borrow short-term money from their banks. Or they go to dealers in commercial paper—which is a sort of IOU, or short-term unsecured note that leading industrial corporations and finance companies issue to get the funds they need for current operations.

DEALERS in commercial paper are raising their rates for the second time in two weeks. Each boost was one-eighth of one per cent, and the rates on three to six-month commercial paper now ranges from 1 7/8 to 2¼ per cent.

Business borrowing has been increasing in recent weeks, although in most years business borrowing would be de lining now, and would increase again late in the summer. This increased demand for money is the reason given for the two recent interest hikes.

The Federal Reserve has the power to restrict or expand the supply of funds which the banks have for making loans. Last year it saw to it that they had all the funds they wanted for making loans to business. Interest rates turned easy.

BUT WHEN the recovery from the recession began to pick up impressive speed, the Federal Reserve stopped pumping credit into the banks and the supply of loanable funds has gradually tightened. The Central Bank authorities felt this would prevent the start of any runaway inflation.

Tighter money has increased the cost of the U. S. Treasury's borrowing. Each week it borrows around 1½ billion dollars on new 91-day bills to retire a similar amount of maturing ones. This week it had to pay an average cost of 1.652 per cent. Last year it could borrow at 1 per cent or less.

THE TREASURY'S rate is now higher than the 1.5 per cent which the Federal Reserve charges its member commercial banks when they borrow from it. This has revived the rumor that the Central Bank may raise its discount rate to the commercial banks.

The same rumor was also strong at the time the Bank of England made a similar interest hike to curb inflation in Britain. But at that time the U. S. Treasury was about to float a big long-term loan, and the Federal Reserve apparently didn't want to tighten up on funds.

Now it apparently is watching the business scene—the chances of inflation or the chances, instead, of a slowdown for business this summer.

If it decides the present business boomlet is going to continue to pick up speed, the Federal Reserve may raise its rate. If it fears the boomlet will peter out, it may reverse itself and make credit easier again.

The Brazil nut, which is not eaten in Brazil, ranks second to coffee in that country's exports.

Business borrowing has been increasing in recent weeks, although in most years business borrowing would be de lining now, and would increase again late in the summer. This increased demand for money is the reason given for the two recent interest hikes.

The Federal Reserve has the power to restrict or expand the supply of funds which the banks have for making loans. Last year it saw to it that they had all the funds they wanted for making loans to business. Interest rates turned easy.

BUT WHEN the recovery from the recession began to pick up impressive speed, the Federal Reserve stopped pumping credit into the banks and the supply of loanable funds has gradually tightened. The Central Bank authorities felt this would prevent the start of any runaway inflation.

Tighter money has increased the cost of the U. S. Treasury's borrowing. Each week it borrows around 1½ billion dollars on new 91-day bills to retire a similar amount of maturing ones. This week it had to pay an average cost of 1.652 per cent. Last year it could borrow at 1 per cent or less.

THE TREASURY'S rate is now higher than the 1.5 per cent which the Federal Reserve charges its member commercial banks when they borrow from it. This has revived the rumor that the Central Bank may raise its discount rate to the commercial banks.

The same rumor was also strong at the time the Bank of England made a similar interest hike to curb inflation in Britain. But at that time the U. S. Treasury was about to float a big long-term loan, and the Federal Reserve apparently didn't want to tighten up on funds.

Now it apparently is watching the business scene—the chances of inflation or the chances, instead, of a slowdown for business this summer.

If it decides the present business boomlet is going to continue to pick up speed, the Federal Reserve may raise its rate. If it fears the boomlet will peter out, it may reverse itself and make credit easier again.

WANTED: MORAL DISCIPLINE

The spectacular, well-planned theft of a record $350,000 in cash from a small New York City bank is much more than just a piece of local news. It highlights a growing national problem.

The FBI reports that 307 banks were robbed in 1954. In the last eight months, there were 386. The upward trend is so disturbing that the FBI has begun a series of conferences with local police officials and bank representatives in search of a way to check these lootings.

According to the FBI, apprehending bank robbers today is a lot tougher than it used to be in the day of John Dillinger. Then the bank gangs had a sort of continuing organization. Now the jobs are done by quickly organized bands of criminals who pull off a robbery or two and then split up. This makes them harder to identify and trace.

Of course, it isn't only the bank robbery that is on the rise. Many types of crime are increasing, not merely numerically but in proportion to the nation's population. The increase includes both crimes against people and crimes against property.

We can find at least a partial explanation for the rise in violence against people in the mounting tensions of overcrowded city living, in our many broken homes, in the shattering of disciplines that follows from the American habit of moving from place to place and job to job.

We seem to give somewhat less thought to crimes against property. Yet in their present proportions they are distinctly a mark of modern civilization. Murder and assault were surprisingly common in the distant past. Thievery really came into its own with this age of relative plenty.

Undoubtedly the criminologists and other specialists can offer some pretty good reasons. These might be among them:

This is a money civilization. Money increasingly is the key to filling our wants. Less and less do we produce the things we personally need; we buy them. Since this is so, the competition for the dollar grows stiffer all the time.

Perhaps inevitably, some men of weaker fiber decide that they will not trouble to earn the money they want but simply take it. As it grows harder to build and maintain good moral disciplines, this attitude becomes more common.

This is also the age of supreme temptation. Never in history have we seen so many shiny, desirable things about us as now. Motor cars, TV sets, cameras, smartly turned out household gadgets, a hundred and one fancy props for good living.

The urge to possess is strong, especially among younger people who haven't acquired a sense of values, who don't see why they should wait to have what they want. Young men look eagerly in dazzling shop windows, or stand on street corners and enviously watch the Cadillacs go by.

In other words, ours is a time when people's wants have been vastly multiplied, but they do not make what they want. Money unlocks the door. If they will not or cannot earn it, then they may choose to steal either the material things they seek, or the money to buy them.

We need more and better policeman to halt the mounting toll of thievry. But we also need a deeper solution. We must find a way to build and preserve moral disciplines strong enough to overcome the strains and temptations of this age of money and material plenty.

PREYING ON THE DEAD

A Federal Court judge recently sentenced a Cleveland, Ohio, man to a year in prison for working a vicious mail racket.

The swindler would cull names from the obituary columns of newspapers. He would then mail a cheap luck charm addressed to the deceased. Bereaved people, out of respect to their dead, mailed payments. The price asked was many times the value of the item.

This is not a new racket yet it seems to remain profitable despite the number of times it has been exposed. It pays to be extremely careful in doing any business with strangers through the mail. A check with the Chamber of Commerce or Better Business Bureau whenever there is doubt can put these ghouls out of business.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE CORSI AFFAIR

The Corsi Case raises certain general principles, namely, whether an official appointed to a subordinate position in a government department may determine the policy of that department on a particular question; secondly whether the head of a government department is bound to keep a man on willy-nilly, once he is dissatisfied with his work or his attitude.

Edward J. Corsi has for many years been a henchman in New York of Thomas E. Dewey, kept on the public payroll in the hope that he could gather for the Republicans a portion of the Italian vote. Most Italians in this state are Democrats, having been duly corralled into that party during the days of the New Deal. In New York, political parties operate on the general assumption that national and religious groups vote, more or less, in blocs.

Fiorello La Guardia was a Republican when he ran for Congress. Subsequently he became non-partisan, or to state it more accurately, omnipartisan, just as he managed to belong to all sorts of nationality and religious groups. "Butch," as his friends called him, was usually in political partnership with Vito Marcantonio who sought, in Harlem, both Fascist and Communist support, eventually leaving the Fascists behind him as numerically unimportant. La Guardia spoke a multitude of languages and therefore did as well at an orthodox Jewish Bar Mitzvah as at an Irish Catholic wake. "Butch" was an amazing vote-getter, but he never succeeded in making Republicans out of Italians.

Nor was Corsi more successful. He ran for Mayor against Impellitteri and Pecora, that being the year when the politicians thought only an Italian could win in New York. Corsi was trounced, but Dewey gave him a job as Dewey always took care of his own. It was only natural therefore that when Averell Harriman, a Democrat, was elected Governor of the State of New York, Corsi should become unemployed and that a place should be sought for him in Washington.

Why John Foster Dulles, our much bedevilled Secretary of State, should have Corsi loaded upon him, is not too difficult to understand. Where else could Corsi be unloaded? He is a specialist in a foreign language group and in the particular interests of this foreign language group. This relationship is clarified by the intervention of Max Rabb, Eisenhower's David Niles, if you recall the name. Niles's job was to make sure that Jews, Negroes, Italians and other "minorities" remained faithful to the New Deal. Niles was skillful at intrigue, but he never told anyone that Roosevelt had, jestingly perhaps, proposed giving the 6,000,000 Jews of the United States to Ibn Saud. There were no jokes in Niles's personality. His successor, Max Rabb, is also a very serious-minded man.

So, Rabb apparently helped land Corsi a job in the State Department to "liberalize" the McCarran-Walter Immigration Law. Of course, if that law or any law is to be changed, it is Congress that has to do it. The function of the Executive branch of the government is to administer and execute the laws of Congress, not to change them. So Representative Walter raised up a howl, and Corsi was offered a transfer. Whereupon Corsi shouted, "McCarthy!" and the Liberals went into action.

Joe McCarthy had as much to do with Corsi's being hired and fired as you or I did, but just as in the circus, when there is trouble, the shout goes up, "Hey, Rube!" so among the so-called Liberals, the battle-cry is "McCarthy!" Then they find themselves organized and fighting. The A.D.A. goes into action, and the individual in question becomes a "victim." Then Jim Hagerty announces that the President never heard about the matter and therefore is not to blame.

The record having been established, nothing happens and the whole thing is soon forgotten in the next crisis. It was possible to go to bat for Wolf Ladejinsky, for here was a clean-cut public servant, a technician, an anti-Communist by his writings, against whom no security charges could be maintained so far as anybody could show. It is not possible to go to bat for Edward J. Corsi because he has been little more than a politician in these parts looking for votes for his patron, Thomas E. Dewey. Maybe, all Dewey's henchmen ought to be on the Federal payroll, but only Dewey can know the reason why it should be so.

That Body of Yours

PIGEON BREAST, FUNNEL CHEST

Although deformities of the wall of the chest are not dangerous or serious conditions, we must realize that such persons may develop an inferiority complex about their appearance that can be greatly disturbing.

In the Journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. Charles W. Lester, New York, states that these deformities may be classified in two categories. They are the protusion deformities in which there is a bulging outward or forward of the chest wall — "pigeon breast" as it is called — and the depression deformities where the bulging is inward, the so-called "funnel chest." These are the results of abnormalities which are present at birth or become evident as the child develops and grows and are not the same as the deformities caused by rickets or other diseases.

What causes these abnormalities? Many theories had been put forward but they did not seem to answer the question. Hence observations were made during operations on protrusion deformities and studies were also made at postmorten examination of patients who had died from other causes not related to the chest condition. It was concluded that uneven growth of the ribs was the cause of these deformities. Since growth is the important factor, it also explains why these deformities seldom occur until the child is four or five years old and why the deformity may increase as long as growth continues. For example, if the pair of ribs attached to the mid-portion of the breastbone grow proportionately longer than the other ribs, the central part of the breastbone will be pushed forward in an arc.

One of the disadvantages of the deformity is that free movement of the diaphragm is interfered with and a cough becomes ineffectual. Then minor bronchial infections become major and fleeting ones become chronic.

Operation was found to be the best means of correction of these conditions, an operation which although extensive is considered safe. It was found that the best results were obtained when the operation was performed in patients between the ages of three and six years but that good correction could be obtained at any age. In a series of 90 patients undergoing operation, the youngest was seven months and the oldest 40 years old.

If you notice any deformity or abnormality in the chest development of your child, it would be wise to see advice early rather than hope that the condition would be outgrown because if it proves to be one of the above types of deformity, it will increase and not decrease as the child grows.

The Rats Start Sniffing

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — A blistering attack on the way the U. S. "Point Four" Technical Cooperation program has been kicked around Washington, with four reorganizations in the last five years, has just been issued by a committee of 25 American businessmen and civic leaders in National Planning Association. NPA is a non-partisan, non-profit research organization of highest respectability.

Its latest, intermin report on Technical Cooperation Administration — TCA — is particularly timely. The Foreign Operations Administration under Gov. Harold Stassen, which has been responsible for TCA the past two years, is due out of business June 30.

Unless drastic action is taken within the next few months, many U. S. technical assistance programs in some 50 underdeveloped foreign countries may also come to an end.

TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE TO foreign countries is frequently considered a part of military aid, economic aid, loans and grants to undeveloped areas. TCA is entirely separate from such programs. It involves the sharing of knowledge and technical skills—the sending of American experts to the backward countries to help them raise their own standard of living, often at their own expense.

In contrast to the multi-billion dollar foreign aid programs, TCA cost $107 million in 1954, $116 million this year. It is considered almost impossible to spend any more on it, or any faster, because experts can't be recruited for more projects. Today there are 360 vacancies for Latin-America alone, out of a total authorized staff of 800.

"The government of the United States has been changing its mind about the answers so frequently," says the NPA criticisms, that we are "baffling and confusing the foreign governments with whom we wish to cooperate."

The NPA report lambasts both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations. "When the TCA program was administered by the State Department from 1950 to 1953 it was severely shackled and could not operate effectively.

AS A CLASSIC EXAMPLE of how technical cooperation has been kicked around in the present administration it is revealed that the Foreign Operations Administration and the State Department took from July to December, 1954, to allocate $175,000 for Latin-American projects. By this time the fiscal year was half over and the work was set back that much.

With FOA apparently doomed to die this June 30, it is now proposed to transfer TCA back to the State Department. This is in spite of the fact that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has said repeatedly that he does not want operating responsibilities in his department.

Taking advantage of this opening, the National Planning Association recommends several proposals of getting the train back on the track.

One proposal is to organize the entire program as a government corporation. This would permit the organization to run its own show, making quick decisions for action programs free from interdepartmental red tape tangles.

THIS WOULD BE IN LINE with the experience gained by the Institute of Inter-American Affairs. IIAA was organized during the war by the Nelson Rockefeller group to deal with internal agricultural, health and education developments in Latin-America.

Congress recently extended the IIAA charter as a government corporation until 1960. It has worked effectively while ECA, MSA and FOA have successively had their troubles.

While the initial technical assistance pioneering was in Latin-America, it has been extended all over the free world. In the last few years major emphasis has been on Middle East development. For the immediate future, the Eisenhower administration would apparently like to make a major effort in Southeast Asia, to save it from communism.

Congress will have this whole problem tossed in its lap soon, when the White House sends to Congress its recommendations for the foreign aid program for next year.

Chairman of the special policy committee making the NPA report is Laird Bell, prominent Chicago lawyer.

Yielding Quemoy and Matsus Like Handing Berlin to Communists in Germany

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 13—If it's logical for the United States to urge that the Nationalists give up Quemoy and the Matsus because those islands are so close to the Chinese mainland as to be a source of potential trouble, why isn't it as logical for those on the appeasement side to urge the West German government now to consent to the giving up of Berlin to East Germany?

For Berlin today is an "island" and there is a gap of 100 miles between it and the main area of West Germany, just as there is a space of 100 miles between Formosa and the Chinese offshore islands. The "island" is a constant source of friction.

THE NEW TYPE of blockade recently imposed by the Soviet authorities over the commercial trucks that have to travel between Berlin and West Germany over the 100-mile highway in the Soviet Zone can be cited as an example of the kind of international irritation which the continued possession of Berlin by the West Germans holds for the Allied world.

All the arguments being made for appeasing the Red Chinese can be adapted readily to the situation in and around the "island of Berlin." For the appeasement talk heard here and the proposals being made that the Chinese offshore islands be surrendered, as suggested by some big American newspapers, could be taken by the Communists to mean they will get what they want without fighting. The Soviets know that heretofore in the "cold war," by playing their cards right—by threatening war through their satellites and not actually engaging in it—there has been stimulated on the Allied side, usually from the peace-at-any-price elements, a demand that the United States lead the way in retreat.

WHAT IS producing a great deal of confusion among folks who look on from the sidelines is the strange inconsistency between the attitude taken toward developments in Europe and those in Asia.

Thus, the idea that the United States might wish to take a firm stand in calling a halt to the Communist advance in Asia is termed in Europe a provocative attitude and one fraught with danger. Usually it is followed up in America by editorials in some newspapers of influence which declare that, because our Allies are worried or anxious America must back down. If it be suggested that this might mean the loss of Asia, there's always a ready answer given—that this is a danger which must be faced but, on the other hand, that it isn't equal to the danger of perhaps worrying our Allies.

THE FACT remains that the average American today isn't clear as to why any American lives should be lost over the Quemoys or the Matsus. He is supposed to feel differently however, about the importance of defending Formosa. Yet only a year or so ago Formosa seemed remote, just as Korea did to most Americans in January, 1950, when Secretary of State Acheson wrote them off in his speech to the National Press Club as being outside the American defense perimeter.

But President Eisenhower, by asking for a resolution by Congress, has dramatized the need for the defense of Formosa as a means of halting the Communist advance in Asia. Even the other Western allies at present are inclined to go along with him on this policy in the hope that the Quemoys and Matsus may yet be surrendered. Then they will doubtless demand a plebiscite on Formosa, but not, of course, a plebiscite on the mainland.

FAILURE TO defend the Quemoy and Matsus Islands could mean a death blow to the morale of the Nationalist troops based on Formosa. Then an army of 500,000 Nationalists, who now constitute a flank which keeps a Red Chinese army bogged down on the Chinese mainland, would deteriorate. Grave danger may develop then in respect to UN forces in Korea. Maybe the Red Chinese would immediately thereafter decide it was opportune to resume the fighting there.

Until the President explains to the American people the relationship between the Chinese offshore islands and the Formosa situation, there is a chance that by biding their time the Communists can get their way as they have in other things by using pressure tactics in the "cold war." For the effort now is to divide American public opinion and bring about the surrender of the offshore islands to the Communists. European pressure is assisting in the maneuver on the theory that this will mean peace. But the Communists are never appeased. This is the way, indeed, to encourage the aggressor to make a fatal miscalculation which can bring on the very war everybody dreads.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The appointment of Miss Frances Knight to Mrs. Ruth Shipley's old job of chief of the passport division of the State Department is a heartening victory for the dogged minority group which might be called the pro-American element. This position is invested with arbitrary legal authority to reject applications for passports for Communists and persons who have truck with them. For that matter, Miss Knight, like Mrs. Shipley, can shake her head with decisive finality without giving any reason. She can refuse a passport to Eleanor Roosevelt if it appears to her that La Boca is bent on political mischief. Knowing Frances, I would not bet on her to flinch. She might also order some embassy to pick up Irving Brown's passport to stop his messing in the internal politics of many nations but with the curious consent of President Ike and the blessing of the insipid Central Intelligence Agency, which is a subdivision of state. Brown's mission as political agent of Dave Dubinsky and the AF of L is a challenge to the printed instructions in every passport warning the holder to mind his own business.

Frances took a bad pasting from the sort of people, including Americans for Democratic Action, you would naturally expect to pick on a person of her principles when she was first mentioned as the nominee. Drew Pearson intimated that her official journey to certain European capitals last year was just a junket because, for three days, she was with her husband, Wayne Parrish, in Paris. Wayne runs an aviation trade journal and flies much of the time. He happened to be in London when she landed in Paris so he joined her on Sept. 15 at a dinner party given by an American military officer. At a certain point in that party, the host raised his glass and, with a smile to Frances and a nod to Wayne, said: "This is a happy occasion."

"Yup," Mr. Parrish agreed. "Sure is."

Frances then smiled across the brim of hers and said: "Darling, this is September fifteenth."

"Yup," said Mr. Parrish. "Sure is."

This was not the first time he had muffed the significance of September fifteenth in their 20 years together. On another occasion, he telephoned her from Geneva and Frances took the phone with understandable pleasure.

"Hey," the perfect lover demanded. "How is Joe doing in that primary out in Wisconsin?"

Frances has said that the first passport she is going to pick up is his.

She did not quite understand when an agent of Pearson called on her and said Pearson was particularly interested in the passport division. But I believe she does understand now that I have reminded her that Pearson once tried to plant an agent, a naturalized Greek, the brother of a Greek Communist, aboard an official American plane carrying an economic "mission" to Athens. Harry Truman ordered Harry Vaughan to block the passport. Vaughan passed the word to Mrs. Shipley and she obeyed. Pearson then sent David Katz, alias Karr, formerly of the Daily Worker and one of three Pearson operatives formerly intimate with the Communists, to threaten reprisals against Vaughan. There was no passport and the "blasting" began. Meanwhile, David K. Niles, in the White House, always under suspicion himself, demanded that Vaughan withdraw his obstruction. Vaughan threatened to bust him on the snoot. Niles shut up.

The Washington Post, the New York Post and a character who calls himself both I. F. Stone and Iisdor Feinstein in Who's Who, also attacked Frances. Their motives are not obscure but it is remarkable that Eisenhower and John Dulles had the backbone to appoint her, nevertheless. Stone is a moderately successful professional nuisance who has worked for the New York Post, The Nation, PM, and the New York Star. The two latter have folded.

In a little political bulletin which seems to be Stone's present organ of propaganda, he charged Miss Knight with disloyalty to the New Deal, and said the Washington Post had accused her of partiality to a Catholic "separatist" movement in Communist Czechoslovakia. She pleads guilty on both counts although she is a Protestant.

Frances broke in with Hugh Johnson in the crazy Fascist experiment called NRA but she seems to have been a pro-American undercover agent in the bureaucracy. She bored into the State Department in the hey-day of the Acheson-Hiss cabal and actually was the source of most of the information which Joe McCarthy relied on in his original speech on traitors and perverts in state. They suspected her for a long time but she is beautiful and has a knack of seeming dumb.

Miss Knight's greatest exploit was an expose of silly antics in the office of Civil Defense in the war. The Empress Eleanor latched on as assistant director with an office in Washington. Betty Lindley, the wife of Ernest K. Lindley, the journalist, was another assistant and Melvin Douglas, the Hollywood patriot, was "voluntary head of the arts division" until Frances blew the whole outfit through the roof. Sent in as press-agent, she was startled the first morning to see doors fly open all along the corridors and females emerge, hippety-hopping with hands joined and squawking to the tune of a phonograph. Eleanor was the leader. This happened twice a day for 15 minutes each time. The Lindley character had been a satellite of the old girl for years and was carried on her personal payroll as radio booking agnt and on government payrolls, too.

Frances turned in a quiet report and La Boca eased out of that escapade. Douglas enlisted and was sent to the desperate India-Burma theatre where he advanced to major.

WANTED: MORAL DISCIPLINE

The spectacular, well-planned theft of a record $350,000 in cash from a small New York City bank is much more than just a piece of local news. It highlights a growing national problem.

The FBI reports that 307 banks were robbed in 1954. In the last eight months, there were 386. The upward trend is so disturbing that the FBI has begun a series of conferences with local police officials and bank representatives in search of a way to check these lootings.

According to the FBI, apprehending bank robbers today is a lot tougher than it used to be in the day of John Dillinger. Then the bank gangs had a sort of continuing organization. Now the jobs are done by quickly organized bands of criminals who pull off a robbery or two and then split up. This makes them harder to identify and trace.

Of course, it isn't only the bank robbery that is on the rise. Many types of crime are increasing, not merely numerically but in proportion to the nation's population. The increase includes both crimes against people and crimes against property.

We can find at least a partial explanation for the rise in violence against people in the mounting tensions of overcrowded city living, in our many broken homes, in the shattering of disciplines that follows from the American habit of moving from place to place and job to job.

We seem to give somewhat less thought to crimes against property. Yet in their present proportions they are distinctly a mark of modern civilization. Murder and assault were surprisingly common in the distant past. Thievery really came into its own with this age of relative plenty.

Undoubtedly the criminologists and other specialists can offer some pretty good reasons. These might be among them:

This is a money civilization. Money increasingly is the key to filling our wants. Less and less do we produce the things we personally need; we buy them. Since this is so, the competition for the dollar grows stiffer all the time.

Perhaps inevitably, some men of weaker fiber decide that they will not trouble to earn the money they want but simply take it. As it grows harder to build and maintain good moral disciplines, this attitude becomes more common.

This is also the age of supreme temptation. Never in history have we seen so many shiny, desirable things about us as now. Motor cars, TV sets, cameras, smartly turned out household gadgets, a hundred and one fancy props for good living.

The urge to possess is strong, especially among younger people who haven't acquired a sense of values, who don't see why they should wait to have what they want. Young men look eagerly in dazzling shop windows, or stand on street corners and enviously watch the Cadillacs go by.

In other words, ours is a time when people's wants have been vastly multiplied, but they do not make what they want. Money unlocks the door. If they will not or cannot earn it, then they may choose to steal either the material things they seek, or the money to buy them.

We need more and better policeman to halt the mounting toll of thievry. But we also need a deeper solution. We must find a way to build and preserve moral disciplines strong enough to overcome the strains and temptations of this age of money and material plenty.

PREYING ON THE DEAD

A Federal Court judge recently sentenced a Cleveland, Ohio, man to a year in prison for working a vicious mail racket.

The swindler would cull names from the obituary columns of newspapers. He would then mail a cheap luck charm addressed to the deceased. Bereaved people, out of respect to their dead, mailed payments. The price asked was many times the value of the item.

This is not a new racket yet it seems to remain profitable despite the number of times it has been exposed. It pays to be extremely careful in doing any business with strangers through the mail. A check with the Chamber of Commerce or Better Business Bureau whenever there is doubt can put these ghouls out of business.

'These Days'

THE CORSI AFFAIR

The Corsi Case raises certain general principles, namely, whether an official appointed to a subordinate position in a government department may determine the policy of that department on a particular question; secondly whether the head of a government department is bound to keep a man on willy-nilly, once he is dissatisfied with his work or his attitude.

Edward J. Corsi has for many years been a henchman in New York of Thomas E. Dewey, kept on the public payroll in the hope that he could gather for the Republicans a portion of the Italian vote. Most Italians in this state are Democrats, having been duly corralled into that party during the days of the New Deal. In New York, political parties operate on the general assumption that national and religious groups vote, more or less, in blocs.

Fiorello La Guardia was a Republican when he ran for Congress. Subsequently he became non-partisan, or to state it more accurately, omnipartisan, just as he managed to belong to all sorts of nationality and religious groups. "Butch," as his friends called him, was usually in political partnership with Vito Marcantonio who sought, in Harlem, both Fascist and Communist support, eventually leaving the Fascists behind him as numerically unimportant. La Guardia spoke a multitude of languages and therefore did as well at an orthodox Jewish Bar Mitzvah as at an Irish Catholic wake. "Butch" was an amazing vote-getter, but he never succeeded in making Republicans out of Italians.

Nor was Corsi more successful. He ran for Mayor against Impellitteri and Pecora, that being the year when the politicians thought only an Italian could win in New York. Corsi was trounced, but Dewey gave him a job as Dewey always took care of his own. It was only natural therefore that when Averell Harriman, a Democrat, was elected Governor of the State of New York, Corsi should become unemployed and that a place should be sought for him in Washington.

Why John Foster Dulles, our much bedevilled Secretary of State, should have Corsi loaded upon him, is not too difficult to understand. Where else could Corsi be unloaded? He is a specialist in a foreign language group and in the particular interests of this foreign language group. This relationship is clarified by the intervention of Max Rabb, Eisenhower's David Niles, if you recall the name. Niles's job was to make sure that Jews, Negroes, Italians and other "minorities" remained faithful to the New Deal. Niles was skillful at intrigue, but he never told anyone that Roosevelt had, jestingly perhaps, proposed giving the 6,000,000 Jews of the United States to Ibn Saud. There were no jokes in Niles's personality. His successor, Max Rabb, is also a very serious-minded man.

So, Rabb apparently helped land Corsi a job in the State Department to "liberalize" the McCarran-Walter Immigration Law. Of course, if that law or any law is to be changed, it is Congress that has to do it. The function of the Executive branch of the government is to administer and execute the laws of Congress, not to change them. So Representative Walter raised up a howl, and Corsi was offered a transfer. Whereupon Corsi shouted, "McCarthy!" and the Liberals went into action.

Joe McCarthy had as much to do with Corsi's being hired and fired as you or I did, but just as in the circus, when there is trouble, the shout goes up, "Hey, Rube!" so among the so-called Liberals, the battle-cry is "McCarthy!" Then they find themselves organized and fighting. The A.D.A. goes into action, and the individual in question becomes a "victim." Then Jim Hagerty announces that the President never heard about the matter and therefore is not to blame.

The record having been established, nothing happens and the whole thing is soon forgotten in the next crisis. It was possible to go to bat for Wolf Ladejinsky, for here was a clean-cut public servant, a technician, an anti-Communist by his writings, against whom no security charges could be maintained so far as anybody could show. It is not possible to go to bat for Edward J. Corsi because he has been little more than a politician in these parts looking for votes for his patron, Thomas E. Dewey. Maybe, all Dewey's henchmen ought to be on the Federal payroll, but only Dewey can know the reason why it should be so.

That Body of Yours

PIGEON BREAST, FUNNEL CHEST

Although deformities of the wall of the chest are not dangerous or serious conditions, we must realize that such persons may develop an inferiority complex about their appearance that can be greatly disturbing.

In the Journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. Charles W. Lester, New York, states that these deformities may be classified in two categories. They are the protusion deformities in which there is a bulging outward or forward of the chest wall — "pigeon breast" as it is called — and the depression deformities where the bulging is inward, the so-called "funnel chest." These are the results of abnormalities which are present at birth or become evident as the child develops and grows and are not the same as the deformities caused by rickets or other diseases.

What causes these abnormalities? Many theories had been put forward but they did not seem to answer the question. Hence observations were made during operations on protrusion deformities and studies were also made at postmorten examination of patients who had died from other causes not related to the chest condition. It was concluded that uneven growth of the ribs was the cause of these deformities. Since growth is the important factor, it also explains why these deformities seldom occur until the child is four or five years old and why the deformity may increase as long as growth continues. For example, if the pair of ribs attached to the mid-portion of the breastbone grow proportionately longer than the other ribs, the central part of the breastbone will be pushed forward in an arc.

One of the disadvantages of the deformity is that free movement of the diaphragm is interfered with and a cough becomes ineffectual. Then minor bronchial infections become major and fleeting ones become chronic.

Operation was found to be the best means of correction of these conditions, an operation which although extensive is considered safe. It was found that the best results were obtained when the operation was performed in patients between the ages of three and six years but that good correction could be obtained at any age. In a series of 90 patients undergoing operation, the youngest was seven months and the oldest 40 years old.

If you notice any deformity or abnormality in the chest development of your child, it would be wise to see advice early rather than hope that the condition would be outgrown because if it proves to be one of the above types of deformity, it will increase and not decrease as the child grows.

The Rats Start Sniffing

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — A blistering attack on the way the U. S. "Point Four" Technical Cooperation program has been kicked around Washington, with four reorganizations in the last five years, has just been issued by a committee of 25 American businessmen and civic leaders in National Planning Association. NPA is a non-partisan, non-profit research organization of highest respectability.

Its latest, intermin report on Technical Cooperation Administration — TCA — is particularly timely. The Foreign Operations Administration under Gov. Harold Stassen, which has been responsible for TCA the past two years, is due out of business June 30.

Unless drastic action is taken within the next few months, many U. S. technical assistance programs in some 50 underdeveloped foreign countries may also come to an end.

TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE TO foreign countries is frequently considered a part of military aid, economic aid, loans and grants to undeveloped areas. TCA is entirely separate from such programs. It involves the sharing of knowledge and technical skills—the sending of American experts to the backward countries to help them raise their own standard of living, often at their own expense.

In contrast to the multi-billion dollar foreign aid programs, TCA cost $107 million in 1954, $116 million this year. It is considered almost impossible to spend any more on it, or any faster, because experts can't be recruited for more projects. Today there are 360 vacancies for Latin-America alone, out of a total authorized staff of 800.

"The government of the United States has been changing its mind about the answers so frequently," says the NPA criticisms, that we are "baffling and confusing the foreign governments with whom we wish to cooperate."

The NPA report lambasts both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations. "When the TCA program was administered by the State Department from 1950 to 1953 it was severely shackled and could not operate effectively.

AS A CLASSIC EXAMPLE of how technical cooperation has been kicked around in the present administration it is revealed that the Foreign Operations Administration and the State Department took from July to December, 1954, to allocate $175,000 for Latin-American projects. By this time the fiscal year was half over and the work was set back that much.

With FOA apparently doomed to die this June 30, it is now proposed to transfer TCA back to the State Department. This is in spite of the fact that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has said repeatedly that he does not want operating responsibilities in his department.

Taking advantage of this opening, the National Planning Association recommends several proposals of getting the train back on the track.

One proposal is to organize the entire program as a government corporation. This would permit the organization to run its own show, making quick decisions for action programs free from interdepartmental red tape tangles.

THIS WOULD BE IN LINE with the experience gained by the Institute of Inter-American Affairs. IIAA was organized during the war by the Nelson Rockefeller group to deal with internal agricultural, health and education developments in Latin-America.

Congress recently extended the IIAA charter as a government corporation until 1960. It has worked effectively while ECA, MSA and FOA have successively had their troubles.

While the initial technical assistance pioneering was in Latin-America, it has been extended all over the free world. In the last few years major emphasis has been on Middle East development. For the immediate future, the Eisenhower administration would apparently like to make a major effort in Southeast Asia, to save it from communism.

Congress will have this whole problem tossed in its lap soon, when the White House sends to Congress its recommendations for the foreign aid program for next year.

Chairman of the special policy committee making the NPA report is Laird Bell, prominent Chicago lawyer.

Yielding Quemoy and Matsus Like Handing Berlin to Communists in Germany

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 13—If it's logical for the United States to urge that the Nationalists give up Quemoy and the Matsus because those islands are so close to the Chinese mainland as to be a source of potential trouble, why isn't it as logical for those on the appeasement side to urge the West German government now to consent to the giving up of Berlin to East Germany?

For Berlin today is an "island" and there is a gap of 100 miles between it and the main area of West Germany, just as there is a space of 100 miles between Formosa and the Chinese offshore islands. The "island" is a constant source of friction.

THE NEW TYPE of blockade recently imposed by the Soviet authorities over the commercial trucks that have to travel between Berlin and West Germany over the 100-mile highway in the Soviet Zone can be cited as an example of the kind of international irritation which the continued possession of Berlin by the West Germans holds for the Allied world.

All the arguments being made for appeasing the Red Chinese can be adapted readily to the situation in and around the "island of Berlin." For the appeasement talk heard here and the proposals being made that the Chinese offshore islands be surrendered, as suggested by some big American newspapers, could be taken by the Communists to mean they will get what they want without fighting. The Soviets know that heretofore in the "cold war," by playing their cards right—by threatening war through their satellites and not actually engaging in it—there has been stimulated on the Allied side, usually from the peace-at-any-price elements, a demand that the United States lead the way in retreat.

WHAT IS producing a great deal of confusion among folks who look on from the sidelines is the strange inconsistency between the attitude taken toward developments in Europe and those in Asia.

Thus, the idea that the United States might wish to take a firm stand in calling a halt to the Communist advance in Asia is termed in Europe a provocative attitude and one fraught with danger. Usually it is followed up in America by editorials in some newspapers of influence which declare that, because our Allies are worried or anxious America must back down. If it be suggested that this might mean the loss of Asia, there's always a ready answer given—that this is a danger which must be faced but, on the other hand, that it isn't equal to the danger of perhaps worrying our Allies.

THE FACT remains that the average American today isn't clear as to why any American lives should be lost over the Quemoys or the Matsus. He is supposed to feel differently however, about the importance of defending Formosa. Yet only a year or so ago Formosa seemed remote, just as Korea did to most Americans in January, 1950, when Secretary of State Acheson wrote them off in his speech to the National Press Club as being outside the American defense perimeter.

But President Eisenhower, by asking for a resolution by Congress, has dramatized the need for the defense of Formosa as a means of halting the Communist advance in Asia. Even the other Western allies at present are inclined to go along with him on this policy in the hope that the Quemoys and Matsus may yet be surrendered. Then they will doubtless demand a plebiscite on Formosa, but not, of course, a plebiscite on the mainland.

FAILURE TO defend the Quemoy and Matsus Islands could mean a death blow to the morale of the Nationalist troops based on Formosa. Then an army of 500,000 Nationalists, who now constitute a flank which keeps a Red Chinese army bogged down on the Chinese mainland, would deteriorate. Grave danger may develop then in respect to UN forces in Korea. Maybe the Red Chinese would immediately thereafter decide it was opportune to resume the fighting there.

Until the President explains to the American people the relationship between the Chinese offshore islands and the Formosa situation, there is a chance that by biding their time the Communists can get their way as they have in other things by using pressure tactics in the "cold war." For the effort now is to divide American public opinion and bring about the surrender of the offshore islands to the Communists. European pressure is assisting in the maneuver on the theory that this will mean peace. But the Communists are never appeased. This is the way, indeed, to encourage the aggressor to make a fatal miscalculation which can bring on the very war everybody dreads.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The appointment of Miss Frances Knight to Mrs. Ruth Shipley's old job of chief of the passport division of the State Department is a heartening victory for the dogged minority group which might be called the pro-American element. This position is invested with arbitrary legal authority to reject applications for passports for Communists and persons who have truck with them. For that matter, Miss Knight, like Mrs. Shipley, can shake her head with decisive finality without giving any reason. She can refuse a passport to Eleanor Roosevelt if it appears to her that La Boca is bent on political mischief. Knowing Frances, I would not bet on her to flinch. She might also order some embassy to pick up Irving Brown's passport to stop his messing in the internal politics of many nations but with the curious consent of President Ike and the blessing of the insipid Central Intelligence Agency, which is a subdivision of state. Brown's mission as political agent of Dave Dubinsky and the AF of L is a challenge to the printed instructions in every passport warning the holder to mind his own business.

Frances took a bad pasting from the sort of people, including Americans for Democratic Action, you would naturally expect to pick on a person of her principles when she was first mentioned as the nominee. Drew Pearson intimated that her official journey to certain European capitals last year was just a junket because, for three days, she was with her husband, Wayne Parrish, in Paris. Wayne runs an aviation trade journal and flies much of the time. He happened to be in London when she landed in Paris so he joined her on Sept. 15 at a dinner party given by an American military officer. At a certain point in that party, the host raised his glass and, with a smile to Frances and a nod to Wayne, said: "This is a happy occasion."

"Yup," Mr. Parrish agreed. "Sure is."

Frances then smiled across the brim of hers and said: "Darling, this is September fifteenth."

"Yup," said Mr. Parrish. "Sure is,"

This was not the first time he had muffed the significance of September fifteenth in their 20 years together. On another occasion, he telephoned her from Geneva and Frances took the phone with understandable pleasure.

"Hey," the perfect lover demanded. "How is Joe doing in that primary out in Wisconsin?"

Frances has said that the first passport she is going to pick up is his.

She did not quite understand when an agent of Pearson called on her and said Pearson was particularly interested in the passport division. But I believe she does understand now that I have reminded her that Pearson once tried to plant an agent, a naturalized Greek, the brother of a Greek Communist, aboard an official American plane carrying an economic "mission" to Athens. Harry Truman ordered Harry Vaughan to block the passport. Vaughan passed the word to Mrs. Shipley and she obeyed. Pearson then sent David Katz, alias Karr, formerly of the Daily Worker and one of three Pearson operatives formerly intimate with the Communists, to threaten reprisals against Vaughan. There was no passport and the "blasting" began. Meanwhile, David K. Niles, in the White House, always under suspicion himself, demanded that Vaughan withdraw his obstruction. Vaughan threatened to bust him on the snoot. Niles shut up.

The Washington Post, the New York Post and a character who calls himself both I. F. Stone and Isidor Feinstein in Who's Who, also attacked Frances. Their motives are not obscure but it is remarkable that Eisenhower and John Dulles had the backbone to appoint her, nevertheless. Stone is a moderately successful professional nuisance who has worked for the New York Post, The Nation, PM and the New York Star. The two latter have folded.

In a little political bulletin which seems to be Stone's present organ of propaganda, he charged Miss Knight with disloyalty to the New Deal, and said the Washington Post had accused her of partiality to a Catholic "separatist" movement in Communist Czechoslovakia. She pleads guilty on both counts although she is a Protestant.

They suspected her for a long time but she is beautiful and has a knack of seeming dumb.

Miss Knight's greatest exploit was an expose of silly antics in the office of Civil Defense in the war. The Empress Eleanor latched on as assistant director with an office in Washington. Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

Giza, Egypt, (AP)—The sphinx did everything but turn on its haunches in surprise.

Behind it under mellow moonlight in the shadow of an ancient pryamid the other night echoed the weird noises of a 20th Century desert party.

Believe me, dear friend of the western world, if you haven't been on a desert party, you don't know what a party is. The mere sounds of one are enough to wake a sleeping pharoah in his tomb and cause him to grab an oar of his solar boat and row madly toward Mars.

THE INGREDIENTS of this particular desert party were rather complex. They included 100 guests, 50 camels, 25 trained Arabian horses, 22 donkeys, 14-horse drawn carts, a troupe of whirling dervishes, 34 musicians, a mutterers' chorus of 48 men, 112 donkey and camel boys, an unknown number of cooks and servants and 14 belly dancers.

Desert parties of this kind are maybe 5,000 years old here, but they certainly are an eye opener to a guy from out of town. As best I could figure it out, here is what happened:

At twilight the guests grabbed the nearest mount available and set out across the sand. Turning down the hospital leer of a camel called "California, Here I Come," I climbed up on a sorrel horse named "Ginger."

THEN THE VAST melange of men, women and animals began marching across the sands to the accompaniment of flutes, drums and tambourines.

If you saw it in a Hollywood movie, you would swear it was a lie. In the midst of this Bedouin bedlam camels growled, horses neighed, women screamed, strong men paled—and the stern silent sons of the desert cased the guests, figuring which would be likely to give the best tips.

One camed floundered. No one worried about the guest. The bedsheet-clad natives began fighting among themselves over who would pay for the camel's hospital bill. Finally both camel and guest came back up on their feet, the fight stopped, the march continued.

A mile farther on we came to a huge tent. It was spread with the finest of Oriental carpets and pillows. The guests knelt or sprawled in comfort, some wondering who would peel the next grape, and the party was on.

THE DERVISHES came in and whirled. One native gentleman with hair as long as Lady Godiva's twirled and twirled until he had twisted his head enough times to wind a 400-day clock through the next century, bowed to applause, then went outside the tent to be unwound.

Native lackeys rushed amid the lolling guests with wine.

Then in came the 14 belly dancers in one of the greatest navel operations in Egyptian history.

By and large the chief difference between a pyramid and a belly dancer here is one of movement. The proportions are about the same.

PERSONALLY, I thought the most interesting was a middle-aged lady who performed her dance wearing atop her head a giant candelabra bearing 15 lighted candles. Her dance was a victory of art over age.

Then everybody rose and piled into the food — freshly-killed lambs roasted whole on spits, ground mutton broiled on steel spikes, artichokes, a casserole dish of okra, rice rolled in grape leaves, sweet thick Oriental coffee.

Suddenly a desert wind, the "Khamseen," began to blow, lifting great sand clouds. The party ended. We headed back from the desert.

One guest, who got lost, showed up later and said:

"I went by the Sphinx. Guess what it looked like in the moonlight—Elsa Maxwell!"

Well, it was kind of an Elsa Maxwell evening.

A sparrow has twice as many vertebra in its neck as a giraffe —14 to 7.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

Giza, Egypt, (AP)—The sphinx did everything but turn on its haunches in surprise.

Behind it under mellow moonlight in the shadow of an ancient pryamid the other night echoed the weird noises of a 20th Century desert party.

Believe me, dear friend of the western world, if you haven't been on a desert party, you don't know what a party is. The mere sounds of one are enough to wake a sleeping pharoah in his tomb and cause him to grab an oar of his solar boat and row madly toward Mars.

THE INGREDIENTS of this particular desert party were rather complex. They included 100 guests, 50 camels, 25 trained Arabian horses, 22 donkeys, 14-horse drawn carts, a troupe of whirling dervishes, 34 musicians, a mutterers' chorus of 48 men, 112 donkey and camel boys, an unknown number of cooks and servants and 14 belly dancers.

Desert parties of this kind are maybe 5,000 years old here, but they certainly are an eye opener to a guy from out of town. As best I could figure it out, here is what happened:

At twilight the guests grabbed the nearest mount available and set out across the sand. Turning down the hospital leer of a camel called "California, Here I Come," I climbed up on a sorrel horse named "Ginger."

THEN THE VAST melange of men, women and animals began marching across the sands to the accompaniment of flutes, drums and tambourines.

If you saw it in a Hollywood movie, you would swear it was a lie. In the midst of this Bedouin bedlam camels growled, horses neighed, women screamed, strong men paled—and the stern silent sons of the desert cased the guests, figuring which would be likely to give the best tips.

One camed floundered. No one worried about the guest. The bedsheet-clad natives began fighting among themselves over who would pay for the camel's hospital bill. Finally both camel and guest came back up on their feet, the fight stopped, the march continued.

A mile farther on we came to a huge tent. It was spread with the finest of Oriental carpets and pillows. The guests knelt or sprawled in comfort, some wondering who would peel the next grape, and the party was on.

THE DERVISHES came in and whirled. One native gentleman with hair as long as Lady Godiva's twirled and twirled until he had twisted his head enough times to wind a 400-day clock through the next century, bowed to applause, then went outside the tent to be unwound.

Native lackeys rushed amid the lolling guests with wine.

Then in came the 14 belly dancers in one of the greatest navel operations in Egyptian history.

By and large the chief difference between a pyramid and a belly dancer here is one of movement. The proportions are about the same.

PERSONALLY, I thought the most interesting was a middle-aged lady who performed her dance wearing atop her head a giant candelabra bearing 15 lighted candles. Her dance was a victory of art over age.

Then everybody rose and piled into the food — freshly-killed lambs roasted whole on spits, ground mutton broiled on steel spikes, artichokes, a casserole dish of okra, rice rolled in grape leaves, sweet thick Oriental coffee.

Suddenly a desert wind, the "Khamseen," began to blow, lifting great sand clouds. The party ended. We headed back from the desert.

One guest, who got lost, showed up later and said:

Well, it was kind of an Elsa Maxwell evening.

Justice to Child Can't Lean On Whether She's 'Pleasant'

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

In a new book on child guidance, I find these words: "Never allow a child to bully you into granting a demand. It teaches him to force recognition by being unpleasant."

Do they shock you?

They should.

For this "expert" is telling us: "Your child's pleasant manner, not the justice of what he asks, determine your decisions. Forget whether he is entitled to what he demands. Consider only whether he presents his demands agreeably."

To follow such advice would make us utterly dependent on the moods of children. It would not only deprive us of our own integrity but increase any problem we might have with an angry child.

If Alice comes home from school to find her little sister has spilled her nail polish, she may become angry. Her anger may inspire her demand that we forbid further misuse of her property. The fact that she may try to "bully" us into action on her demand has nothing whatever to do with us.

Our business is a just decision on her demand. If we deny her justice because her manner is unpleasant, we're going to be in trouble. Unless we can dispense justice to her regardless of her attitude, we will have a chronically resentful child on our hands—or one who learns to use insincere, cajoling words to manipulate what she wants.

A child who makes excitable, "bullying" demands is one who does not trust our justice.

Because she does not trust it, she has to rally anger to "force our recognition." If she trusted our justice, she would ask for what she wanted with the "pleasantness" so desirable to the "expert." Not trusting it, she has to use excited belligerence to club her point of view into our heads.

Despite the "expert," we cannot afford to permit a child's "bullying" to dictate our treatment of her. We cannot make our loyalty to justice dependent on "pleasantness" or "unpleasantness."

We have to judge the rights and wrongs of Alice's demands on us whether she advances them gently or angrily. We are supposed to be grown-up people, not 19th century ladies swooning off into irresponsibility at the sound of a raised and angry voice.

Nehru May Become Leader Of Free Asia Against Desire

(Editor's note: To most westerners, India's Prime Minister Nehru is an enigma. He's neutral one day, anti-Communist the next and against the West the next. Where does Nehru, who will be one of the most influential delegates at next week's Afro-Asian Conference, really stand? Here, in the first of a two-part series of AP's veteran reporter of Asian affairs, is part of the answer.)

By HAROLD K. MILKS

New Delhi, India, April 14 (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru says he doesn't want to be the leader of Free Asia. But if he stands up successfully to Red China's men as the Asian-African Conference next week he may find the job thrust upon him.

Admittedly Nehru remains today a strong neutralist and a powerful supporter of the theory of coexistence, which to many has a pro-Communist tinge. But at the same time he is virtually ruler of the largest nation in Free Asia. And his publicly announced determination to prevent domination of its 360 million people by communism has grown stronger and stronger in recent weeks.

THIS DETERMINATION will meet its greatest test, it appears, at the Bandung, Indonesia parley of more than 20 Asian and African nations April 18-24. If Nehru supports the cause of democracy there as wholeheartedly as he has begun to do at home he should emerge as the No. 1 man in all Free Asia.

Advance indications are that the Nehru delegation to Bandung will talk about both communism and colonialism. High on the list of subjects the group hopes to talk about is a community development program to show people how to help themselves. This is regarded by Nehru as the most effective means of combating communism or any other "ism."

But, at a conference representing more than half the world's population, it will be hard for Nehru to pass up opportunities to lead the way in the organization of a third world power bloc, though he has repeatedly denied any such intentions.

If such a movement got started at Bandung, which way would it go?

"IT'S JUST a question of making Nehru's thoughts—and statements—on international affairs match his thoughts and statements on internal affairs," says one westerner who is familiar with the situation.

Nehru has scathingly attacked Indian communism, accusing the left wingers of being more concerned with the welfare of foreign powers—specifically Soviet Russia and Red China — than with that of their own country.

This change of pace on Nehru's part may have repercussions at Bandung. Some of his associates say the prime minister is ready to answer any challenge Premier Chou En-lai's Peiping delegation may produce.

Western observers here have watched with deep concern India's support of many things called Communist.

THEY HAVE heard Nehru campaign for seating Red China in the United Nations, heard him blame the west for Indochina's situation, listened to his attacks on Syngman Rhee and Chiang Kai-shek.

But a change is showing up in the attitude of Nehru—and India.

Now communism is on the receiving end of his sharply worded attacks. Communism will not work in India, Nehru has decided. He has missed no opportunity to tell his people so in effective, biting words.

These attacks, in which Nehru and other Congress Party leaders link Indian communism to Red China and Soviet Russia, may indicate a change in the whole pattern of Nehru's thinking. In the past the prime minister has publicly rejected the theory that the expanding power of Red China threatened India or its neighbors.

THERE HAS been no change in his public attitude on that question. But those close to the prime minister believe doubts have crept into his thinking since last year's visit to Red China. Certainly the prospect of a powerful China extending political and economic influences into Southeast Asia has been disturbing many Indian officials.

To those who praise the development of China under Communist government, Nehru has an answer which he has included in almost every recent speech:

"Communism may be good for China but I believe democracy fits more nearly the requirements of India and its people."

Those familiar with Nehru's thinking do not expect him to appear at the Bandung conference as a roaring, shouting supporter of democracy — particularly the western brand. They do, however, expect him to be ready to defend his own belief in democracy and its ability to solve India's problems.

THOSE WHO want to heal Nehru's rift with the West — which many say is largely based on misunderstanding rather than sharp fundamental bitterness—view his concern over internal communism here as a first step in that direction.

"Nehru can't attack communism at home without recognizing its link with international communism," explained one foreign observer.

Those who believe there are growing signs of healing India's rift with the West find satisfaction with the light slaps Nehru has given the formation of the Southeast Asia Defense Organization at Bangkok.

Nehru is still against it but he abandoned his strong attacks on the pact as a threat to Indian and Asian peace. Instead recent references called the agreement "useless."

Next: Nehru the man.

Selling Off Herds

Harrisburg, Pa., April 14 (AP)—Dr. William L. Henning, state agriculture secretary, reported today that low milk prices and high "production costs are discouraging to Pennsylvania dairymen and forcing many to sell their herds. At the same time Henning said a trend toward larger herds around the state and fewer dairy farms is keeping milk cow numbers about one per cent above a year ago.

Railroad Makes Profit

New York, April 14 (AP)—The new management of the Long Island Rail Road reports the commuter line has been operating in the black since it emerged from bankruptcy last Aug. 12. The better showing is attributed by the management to tax relief and fare increases.

Turn Down Proposal

London, April 14 (AP)—The United States and Britain have turned down a French proposal that a three-power study group begin immediately to prepare for a conference with the Soviet Union, authoritative informants said today. France proposed recently that the study group of American, British and French experts—already agreed upon by the three powers—start preparing for a Big Four meeting at once. But the United States and Britain were reported insistent that the proposed study group's first meeting be deferred until after ratification of the Paris treaties to rearm West Germany is completed.

THOSE WHO want to heal Nehru's rift with the West—which many say is largely based on misunderstanding rather than sharp fundamental bitterness—view his concern over internal communism here as a first step in that direction.

"Nehru can't attack communism at home without recognizing its link with international communism," explained one foreign observer.

Those who believe there are growing signs of healing India's rift with the West find satisfaction with the light slaps Nehru has given the formation of the Southeast Asia Defense Organization at Bangkok.

Nehru is still against it but he abandoned his strong attacks on the pact as a threat to Indian and Asian peace. Instead recent references called the agreement "useless."

Next: Nehru the man.

Selling Off Herds

Harrisburg, Pa., April 14 (AP)—Dr. William L. Henning, state agriculture secretary, reported today that low milk prices and high "production costs are discouraging to Pennsylvania dairymen and forcing many to sell their herds. At the same time Henning said a trend toward larger herds around the state and fewer dairy farms is keeping milk cow numbers about one per cent above a year ago.

Railroad Makes Profit

New York, April 14 (AP)—The new management of the Long Island Rail Road reports the commuter line has been operating in the black since it emerged from bankruptcy last Aug. 12. The better showing is attributed by the management to tax relief and fare increases.

Turn Down Proposal

London, April 14 (AP)—The United States and Britain have turned down a French proposal that a three-power study group begin immediately to prepare for a conference with the Soviet Union, authoritative informants said today. France proposed recently that the study group of American, British and French experts—already agreed upon by the three powers—start preparing for a Big Four meeting at once. But the United States and Britain were reported insistent that the proposed study group's first meeting be deferred until after ratification of the Paris treaties to rearm West Germany is completed.

Bail Tightened For Procurers And Drug Addicts

Albany, April 14 (AP)—Gov. Harriman has stamped his approval on a pair of bills that will tighten bail requirements for known procurers and drug addicts.

The governor's office said yesterday that Harriman had signed the two measures, recommended by Police Commissioner Francis Adams of New York city.

THE NEW LAWS, effective July 1, would transfer to higher courts bail jurisdiction over persons twice convicted of procuring women for prostitution or of illegal possession of hypodermic needles or syringes.

In New York city, the General Sessions Court would have jurisdiction. Elsewhere, County and State Supreme Courts would set the bail.

At present, police desk officers and local magistrates have the power to fix bail in such cases.

THE BILL dealing with procurers was sponsored by Republican Assemblyman Malcolm Wilson of Westchester county. Frank Composto, Brooklyn Democrat, introduced the other measure.

Harriman disapproved a bill that would have required drivers to dim their multiple-beam headlights when overtaking another vehicle. Under current law the beams must be lowered when approaching an oncoming car.

Harriman signed a measure giving the state health commissioner authority to promulgate rules and regulations for handling and disposal of radioactive materials (Assemblywoman Genesta Strong, R-Nassau county).

THE GOVERNOR explained in a memorandum that the state sanitary code could cover such activities, but that he was signing the measure in order to spell out the authorization.

The governor also signed bills that:

Increase from 15 to 25 the maximum number of directors allowed for banks and trust companies.

Require buses that go out of service as school buses to remove distinctive marks and paint within 15 days after quitting such service.

LIFT THE requirement that the minimum milk fat content be printed on the cap or carton of a mixture of milk and cream known as "half and half."

Remove from the education law a provision that a new school of veterinary medicine be built at either of the State University medical centers, in Brooklyn and Syracuse.

Will Exchange Envoys

Buenos Aires, April 14 (AP)—Argentina and Uruguay have agreed to exchange ambassadors again, diplomatic informants report. The two countries have not had normal diplomatic representation with each other for more than two years.

WHO SAID DO-IT-YOURSELF SAVES MONEY?—Taking the Do-it-yourself theme seriously is Chicagoan John MacArthur, insert, who is building his own jet T-33 trainer from parts of wrecked Air Force planes sold as junk. Gen. P. C. March Dies in Hospital

Washington, April 14 (AP)—Gen. Peyton C. March, boss of America's doughboys in World War 1, died yesterday at the army's Walter Reed Hospital. He was 90.

The goateed soldier, born in the waning days of the Civil War, rose to army chief of staff in World War 1. He spent the last 33 years of his life in retirement.

March had been hospitalized since February last year after breaking a hip in a fall. When he died, his second wife, the former Cora V. McEntee, was at his bedside.

A NATIVE of Easton, Pa., March was outstanding at West Point. He fought in both the Spanish-American War and the Philippine Insurrection. He won the Distinguished Service Cross for gallantry in leading a charge during the assault on Manila in 1898. Later in his career, he received many more American and foreign decorations.

Surviving, besides his widow, are two daughters, both wives of retired generals. They are Mrs. Joseph Swing and Mrs. John Millikin.

Quake in Mongolia

Tokyo, April 14 (AP)—Government seismologists said tonight an earthquake of the highest intensity — stronger than the temblor that jolted the Philippines April 1—may have shaken outer Mongolia today. The Central Meteorological Observatory said all indications on seismographs here were that the shock was of an intensity of eight, on a scale ranging from one to eight.

THEY'RE SURE-NUFF DAVY CROCKETTS—Davy Crockett, fabled frontiersman, would be proud of his namesake and descendant in Houston, Tex. For Davy Crockett III, great-great grandson of the Alamo hero is a modest man who acts like he doesn't give a whoop or a holler for the current jukebox glorification of his name. "They're sure makin' a thing of it," says the 31-year-old architect. A taciturn man in the true mountaineer tradition he admits hearing "The Ballad of Davy Crockett" a "couple of times." And his four-year-old son, Davy Crockett IV, also allows as how he's heard it. Crockett says he's a descendant of the legendary Davy through the hero's youngest son. Of the original Davy's mementos he hasn't so much as a shred of coonskin. In fact, to show Davy IV how things were in the old days, he had to go out and borrow a Tennessee long rifle. EXCLUSIVE NEA PHOTO.

Durkin to Address Cost Accountants

Should We Spend the Money Is the subject of a talk to be given by John L. Durkin, comptroller for the Johns Manville Corporation, to members and guests of the Mid-Hudson Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants, Monday night at the Nelson House in Poughkeepsie. The meeting is scheduled for 7:45 o'clock preceded by a social hour at 6 and dinner at 6:45.

Durkin, a graduate of Loyola University, has been associated with the Johns Manville Corporation since 1935.

Glen R. Myers, program director and James B. Clark, director of meetings, are in charge of arrangements.

Helpers on Nazi V-2 Now Citizens of U.S.

Huntsville, Ala., April 14 (AP) —More than 100 Germans, some of whom helped this country develop its guided missle program, take the oath of allegiance to the United States today.

Also in the group are some who helped develop the deadly Nazi V-2 rocket at Pennemunde, Germany, in World War 2.

All came to the United States from Germany in 1945 and 1946, and were moved to nearby Redstone Arsenal in 1950.

Federal Judges Seyborne Lynne and L. H. Grooms will administer the oath in the auditorium of the Huntsville High School.

On hand to witness the ceremony were many others of German origin who work at the guided missile development division at Redstone. A group of 42 from the arsenal was naturalized at Birmingham Nov. 11.

Sales Show Increase

Lansing P. Sheild, president of The Grand Union Company, East Paterson, N. J., announced today that sales for the five week period ended April 8, 1955, including sales of the 12 newly acquired Food Fair Supermarkets, D. C., were $23,890,491. This compares with $20,908,556 in the comparable period last year, an increase of 14.3 per cent.

President Seeks U. S. Membership For World Trade

Augusta, Ga., April 14 (AP)—President Eisenhower today asked Congress to advance "the struggle against Communist domination" by approving United States membership in a new 34-nation organization on world trade.

In a special message to the lawmakers from his vacation headquarters here, the President declared refusal to approve would be in the long run "play directly into the hands of the Communists."

"I believe the national interest requires that we join with other countries of the free world in dealing with our trade problems on a cooperative basis," the Chief Executive said.

HE URGED Congress to enact legislation authorizing U. S. membership in the new trade unit, known formally as the Organization for Trade Cooperation.

An agreement for creation of OTC was signed at Geneva last March 21. It is an outgrowth of an existing international trade setup produced by the general agreement on trade and tariffs —known as GATT.

In calling for U. S. membership in the new OTC Organization, Eisenhower said:

"I believe the reasons for United States membership * * * are overwhelming. We would thus demonstrate to the free world our active interest in the promotion of trade among the free nations."

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Mrs. Jimmy Diamond called me to tell me she read with great interest the column on West Shokan and the mention of her neighbors of her home town. It was through the visit of Elwyn Crispell Davis of West Shokan that I wrote the column. Most folks who remember the trolley days, I am sure can recollect her husband, the jolly Jimmy Diamond, conductor on the Broadway line. Everyone knew and liked Jimmy Diamond and called out to him, especially during the summer when the good old summer trolleys used to run. Perhaps we will someday have open summer buses, who can tell. At the rate that Kingston is progressing at this point I will believe anything. Well, soon, the summer season will be upon us and the New Yorkers will be coming up this way. Some will try to belittle our small town living. Among those will be former Kingstonians perhaps who have tried to turn into smooth sophisticated New Yorkers. I had a taste of Manhattan for five years after I graduated high school and believe me, just let the first grass peep out in Central Park, or the birds sing too sweetly because its spring, or just that warm sunshine and you get such a feeling to be back in your hometown it hurts. I remember I used to drop good jobs and say, "Spring is here, I have to go back to Kingston." Folks in New York often said and were right, "We'll have snow yet," but I went anyway.

No matter how tall a Manhattan building seems to be, it cannot replace the thrill of seeing a sunrise or sunset in our own Catskill mountains. No matter how fast and furious their subways seem to run, it cannot compare with a babbling brook of which we have many. The neighborliness of an average village cannot be bought in the largest apartment house in New York. And what does the 'true' Manhattanite do, the minute she can afford it, move in the suburbs where there is a little grass although usually its all flat land. When folks spend their lives saving money and then retire, many of them come to Ulster county. The banks have showed time and time again that folks come up here with their savings. I do hope that all this expansion and modernization does not turn us away from the neighborliness we have been used to.

Of course, New York is a city of small towners and many of them lonesome because their friends are all over the city and once a week or so they contact each other by phone or an appointment. You cannot run across the street to your girl friends as you do here. You may live in Brooklyn and she in the Bronx. You may work with the friendliest folks but they are miles apart. I remember on Saturday night, at 8 o'clock, Times Square becomes the meeting place of perhaps thousands of folks, who will go somewhere together and then go home alone because they live in various parts of the big city. I remember how I'd meet someone, even from Ulster county, either at work or at school and we'd meet to go out perhaps three times all winter. Remember many folks save all year to have two weeks up this way.

Kingston Point Beach is going to make the summer so much more pleasant and I hope we have a nice long warm summer, good for swimming, for we seem to be having a long winter. It is real exciting to watch Kingston grow in all directions and do hope that the Kingston Library will follow the growth of the school system. Even though schools may have their own libraries still I notice the Kingston Library is a beehive right after school and certainly could use more space.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Mrs. Jimmy Diamond called me to tell me she read with great interest the column on West Shokan and the mention of her neighbors of her home town. It was through the visit of Elwyn Crispell Davis of West Shokan that I wrote the column. Most folks who remember the trolley days, I am sure can recollect her husband, the jolly Jimmy Diamond, conductor on the Broadway line. Everyone knew and liked Jimmy Diamond and called out to him, especially during the summer when the good old summer trolleys used to run. Perhaps we will someday have open summer buses, who can tell. At the rate that Kingston is progressing at this point I will believe anything. Well, soon, the summer season will be upon us and the New Yorkers will be coming up this way. Some will try to belittle our small town living. Among those will be former Kingstonians perhaps who have tried to turn into smooth sophisticated New Yorkers. I had a taste of Manhattan for five years after I graduated high school and believe me, just let the first grass peep out in Central Park, or the birds sing too sweetly because its spring, or just that warm sunshine and you get such a feeling to be back in your hometown it hurts. I remember I used to drop good jobs and say, "Spring is here, I have to go back to Kingston." Folks in New York often said and were right, "We'll have snow yet," but I went anyway.

No matter how tall a Manhattan building seems to be, it cannot replace the thrill of seeing a sunrise or sunset in our own Catskill mountains. No matter how fast and furious their subways seem to run, it cannot compare with a babbling brook of which we have many. The neighborliness of an average village cannot be bought in the largest apartment house in New York. And what does the 'true' Manhattanite do, the minute she can afford it, move in the suburbs where there is a little grass although usually its all flat land. When folks spend their lives saving money and then retire, many of them come to Ulster county. The banks have showed time and time again that folks come up here with their savings. I do hope that all this expansion and modernization does not turn us away from the neighborliness we have been used to.

Of course, New York is a city of small towners and many of them lonesome because their friends are all over the city and once a week or so they contact each other by phone or an appointment. You cannot run across the street to your girl friends as you do here. You may live in Brooklyn and she in the Bronx. You may work with the friendliest folks but they are miles apart. I remember on Saturday night, at 8 o'clock, Times Square becomes the meeting place of perhaps thousands of folks, who will go somewhere together and then go home alone because they live in various parts of the big city. I remember how I'd meet someone, even from Ulster county, either at work or at school and we'd meet to go out perhaps three times all winter. Remember many folks save all year to have two weeks up this way.

Kingston Point Beach is going to make the summer so much more pleasant and I hope we have a nice long warm summer, good for swimming, for we seem to be having a long winter. It is real exciting to watch Kingston grow in all directions and do hope that the Kingston Library will follow the growth of the school system. Even though schools may have their own libraries still I notice the Kingston Library is a beehive right after school and certainly could use more space.

The bonus will be paid at the rate of $10 for each month of service up to the $300 top. It will be financed with a $20,000,000 bond issue.

To Manage AEC

Washington, April 14 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Kenneth E. Fields, a specialist in atomic weapons development, doffs his army uniform soon to become general manager of the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC). The AEC announced last night that the army has agreed to Fields' retirement so he can take over the $20,00-a-year post on May 1. He will succeed Maj. Gen. Kenneth D. Nichols who is planning to become an engineering consultant here. In its announcement, the AEC said Fields—its director of military application since 1951—"has borne primary responsibility for the great improvement of the nation's position in nuclear arms during the past four years."

Doubts Agreement

Washington, April 14 (AP)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) said today he strongly doubts that Great Britain would agree to any declaration on Formosa until after she holds elections, perhaps in late May. Mansfield said the "initiative" in the Formosa Strait "will remain with the Chinese Communists until that time." Secretary of State Dulles made a new bid to the Red Chinese yesterday to agree to a cease-fire in the Formosa Strait, saying this country would not insist that Peiping renounce her claims to Formosa.

Low-Calorie Cake Mixes

Low-calorie cake mixes of an entirely new type, made without shortening or sugar substitutes and containing less than one-third the caloric content of the usual frosted cake, were introduced this week in leading food stores in this area.

Available in two delicious flavors, golden and chocolate layer, each package of the new cake mix carries its own low-calorie, no-cook, seven-minute type frosting ingredients.

In laboratory tests to determine the caloric content of the new mix, a dozen different cakes were used. Eleven were ordinary frosted layer cakes of various flavors; one was made with the new low-calorie cake 'n frosting mix. Results showed the new low-calorie cake had less than 33 per cent as many calories as the average for all the other cakes. Test kitchen experiments also revealed that a 1½-inch wedge of the new cake 'n frosting contains less calories than ½ a large grapefruit, a 3-inch wedge, less than a 3-oz. rib lamb chop.

The new mixes were developed by Duff's, the pioneer company in the mix field. Its first cake mixes appeared in 1931. Its food scientists conducted lengthy research to perfect the new recipes, finally discovering the secret of how to make a fine textured, high, feather-light layer cake without shortening.

To prepare the new mix you merely add water, two fresh eggs and follow the easy directions on the box. The white frosting mix needs only water. Each package contains simple ways for varying the flavor of the frosting — coffee, chocolate chip, orange, lemon or peppermint — as desired.

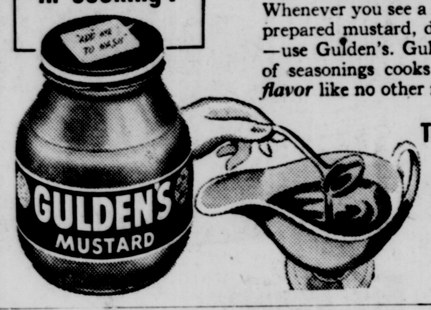
Do you use mustard in cooking?



CHEFS USE GULDEN'S

Whenever you see a recipe calling for prepared mustard, do what chefs do—use Gulden's. Gulden's rich blend of seasonings cooks right in—gives flavor like no other mustard can.

TAKE GRAVY . . .

During cooking, stir in 2 or 3 tablespoons of Gulden's—to glorify your gravy.

Enjoy HAPPY EATING

with ARNOLD BRICK OVEN the ROBUST RYE

If ever we baked a bread for "happy" eating, it's our new Brick Oven Rye! It has a robust flavor men go for. And the secret is not only its just-right dash of caraway. Most important is the very special Wisconsin rye flour we bring in fresh each week. Look for Arnold Brick Oven Rye in the sparkling cellophane wrapper. We know you'll like it!

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

How should you play the South hand at four spades? You are threatened with the loss of a heart, two diamonds, and a club. What can you do to prevent the loss of one of these tricks?

You can't do much about the red suits. If you can persuade one of the opponents to lead clubs, however, you can avoid the loss of a trick.

Assume that the club honors are split, as they are in the hand as it is shown. If West leads a low club, you play low from the dummy, and you can capture the queen with your ace; then you can lead a club towards dummy and finesse through West. If it happens to be East who leads the first club, you play low from your hand and capture West's jack with dummy's king; then you finesse through East with your ace-nine.

Is it reasonable to assume that the club honors are split? Yes, indeed. You don't care which opponent has the jack and which has the queen, provided that they are split; and the chance of finding the honors split is 52 per cent. This is, of course, a good enough chance to play for.

You win the first heart with the king, draw two rounds of trumps and give up a diamond. If the opponents return a heart (their best defense), you win with the ace and give up another diamond. They can take their heart trick, but then they must begin the clubs. If they lead another red card, you will ruff in dummy and discard a club from your hand.

By this means you force the opponents to begin the clubs, and you simply play the suit on the assumption that the honors are divided.

LOW-CALORIE MIXES!

EAT CAKE AND STAY SLIM!

QUICK, EASY "CAKE 'N FROSTING" MIXES GIVE YOU DELICIOUS FROSTED LAYER CAKE WITH LESS THAN ⅓ USUAL CALORIES

"So Easy to Bake," "Taste and Look Wonderful," Say First to Try New Low-Calorie Mixes

Just listen to these typical comments from women who have already tried these new Duff's "Cake 'N Frosting" mixes:

"I've made both the Golden and Chocolate Layer cakes, and they both turned out beautifully," says Mrs. W. G. Allen, housewife. "It's a joy to eat cake again, and still avoid fattening foods."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

How should you play the South hand at four spades? You are threatened with the loss of a heart, two diamonds, and a club. What can you do to prevent the loss of one of these tricks?

You can't do much about the red suits. If you can persuade one of the opponents to lead clubs, however, you can avoid the loss of a trick.

Assume that the club honors are split, as they are in the hand as it is shown. If West leads a low club, you play low from the dummy, and you can capture the queen with your ace; then you can lead a club towards dummy and finesse through West. If it happens to be East who leads the first club, you play low from your hand and capture West's jack with dummy's king; then you finesse through East with your ace-nine.

Is it reasonable to assume that the club honors are split? Yes, indeed. You don't care which opponent has the jack and which has the queen, provided that they are split; and the chance of finding the honors split is 52 per cent. This is, of course, a good enough chance to play for.

You win the first heart with the king, draw two rounds of trumps and give up a diamond. If the opponents return a heart (their best defense), you win with the ace and give up another diamond. They can take their heart trick, but then they must begin the clubs. If they lead another red card, you will ruff in dummy and discard a club from your hand.

By this means you force the opponents to begin the clubs, and you simply play the suit on the assumption that the honors are divided.

Business Boom Seen by Many as Basis for Record '55 Sales

All Producers In on Big Demand

New York, April 13 (AP)—Business is so good for most companies today that it is surprising some businessmen—and making others ask: "How long can this last?"

Doubts about the second half are widespread. But a number of executives are so pleased with the way the year has started out and picked up momentum that they see new sales records for their companies in the making for the year.

Ernest R. Breech, chairman of the Ford Motor Co., says his firm's assembly lines are turning out cars in greater volume than ever. But retail demands is outstripping production and dealers' stocks are lower than they should be.

PUBLIC DEMAND for the new models has forced Ford to increase production schedules steadily, he adds.

The big demand for autos in general, the Commerce Department reports, sent total retail sales volume in the nation during March to 14½ billion dollars. This was 15 per cent higher than a year ago.

Jersey Standard Oil officials are predicting that sales volume for their oil products this year will top last year's record 5¾ billion dollars. Chairman Eugene Holman foresees "a continued favorable level of profits."

Du Pont's sales and profits are running about 17 per cent ahead of 1954, President Crawford H. Greenewalt reports. He sees a good chance for Du Pont's sales this year to top the record set in 1953.

METAL PRODUCERS, aided by booming demand and higher prices, are also optimistic. Kennecott Copper's treasurer, E. S. Hann, says a highly satisfactory year is in sight. He looks for the supply of copper to stay tight at least until the third quarter of the year, and he sees good times for the metals industries stretching into 1956 at least.

The packaging, container and paper industries have shared in the prosperity of manufacturers in general. Samuel Kipnis, president of National Container Corp., says both sales and earnings soared in the first three months of this year.

American Locomotive Co. is recalling 550 workers to its Schenectady plant because of a backlog of orders for diesel locomotives.

FOOD PROCESSORS are sharing the general prosperity Sunshine Biscuit earnings are better this year than last, President Hanford Main reports.

Studebaker-Packard Corp. operated in the black in March, President James J. Mance says. This was the first month of profitable operations since the two auto makers merged last October.

Steel men almost every week raise their estimates of how good 1955 is going to be for them, and how long their present boom will last. Steel tonnage production is running just a share under the record set in March of 1953, and well above the rate that most steel executives predicted at the start of the year.

THE HOUSING boom also continues to astound the experts. New homes are being built faster than new families are being formed. But almost everywhere the homes are being sold as they are built. Very easy mortgage terms are given the credit for keeping the boom going.

Through all this record of cheer runs the one thread of doubt: Is this too good to last? Some look for a slowdown from summer on. But many are predicting good times will last into 1956.

Rotary Enjoys Ladies' Night

Ladies' Night in celebration of the golden anniversary of Rotary International was held Wednesday evening at The Barn by members of the Kingston Rotary Club and their families.

The Barn was beautifully decorated for the occasion by a committee under the direction of Burton S. Davis.

Following a sumptuous dinner, there was a brief speaking program which included greetings from District Governor George Bagley.

Dancing concluded the evening's program.

Snyder Is Speaker For Church Club

"Glad Headlines and Sad Dreadlines" was the topic used by Frederic Snyder, lecturer, in a talk before the Men's Club of the Old Dutch Church Wednesday night.

Describing the reports concerning the Salk vaccine as "one of the great stories of all times," Snyder termed Dr. Salk's discovery "a tribute to free education and free enterprise."

Snyder pointed out that in his interview with the New Yorker magazine, reported in its issue of Jan. 1, this year, he stressed that much of the year's news would come to headlines in words ending in "Y." In the article he listed "immunity" as one of those words.

"The list grows as one notes that we have had Germany, treaty, energy, Carney, Neely, Meany, Quemoy, gravity, delinquency, robbery—the largest bank robbery in all news history."

"The nation will need two words ending in 'y'—unity and industry— to sustain the economy of the country. The greatest need of all is for an enrichment of spirituality, which provides the pathway to eternity," he said.

Bicycle Is Found

An old red colored boy's bicycle was found abandoned in the High Falls area Wednesday night, and may be claimed by contacting the sheriff's office in Kingston, Undersheriff Clayton Vredenburg reported today.

Inflation Spins On Juke Boxes

Inflation is going for a spin on area juke boxes as soon as machines can be converted from a nickel to a dime, according to Harold Seidel of the Allied Vending Company at 88 Broadway. Mr. Seidel and other juke box operators attributed the rising cost of records and machines to "the hike in tariff for your privelege of listening to popular songs in public establishments."

Mr. Seidel pointed out that many machines in the area have already been converted. Poughkeepsie, Highland, Newburgh, and Albany are already swallowing dimes in their juke boxes. "The nickel is no good anymore," he asserted.

THUS, ONE of America's great entertainment institutions is going the way of the nickel cigar. What started as a nickelodeon, and later changed to the sophisticated title of "juke box" is following the trend of the times. The wailing of Davey Crockett will soon be more expensive, and young lovers gazing fondly over an ice cream soda will find it costlier for that Melody of Love.

Ralph D'Ambrosio, Saugerties recording machine distributor, confirmed that prices on single recordings in that community, follows a trend that has been growing on a national scale. Pointing out that 10-cent public record players are almost standard in New York city, he said that patrons will peg three plays for a quarter instead of the standard six.

Greco Brothers, a large machine distributor in this area, had no comment on the change, though predicting news in the future.

Handbags Taken From Local Stores

Police were notified of the theft of two handbags from local stores yesterday.

One was taken from the shop of the Broadway Florist, 593 Broadway, and the other from th H. Singer Department Store, 60 Broadway. Two women visitors to the stores are suspected.

A report at 4:38 p. m., said the handbag of Mrs. Clara Belle Gile, had been taken from behind the counter at the florist shop. It contained personal papers, keys and $14 in cash.

THE OTHER report at 7:40 p. m., said the bag of Mrs. Henry Singer was taken from the store at 60 Broadway between 1 and 3 p. m. It contained a wallet, glasses, keys, other items and $4 in cash. The wallet, glasses and car keys were reported found on Broadway by Peter Mahar, of 125 Grand street.

Reports indicated that the two women, believed to be from out of the city, were riding in a car.

March Uniform Milk Price $3.80

New York, April 14 (AP)—Dairy farmers in the New York milkshed will receive a uniform price of $3.80 per hundredweight (46.5 quarts) for milk deliveries during March to 394 approved plants.

The producer butterfat differential for March is 5.4 cents for each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the 3.5 per cent standard.

The prices were announced late yesterday by C. J. Blanford, market administrator of the New York metropolitan milk marketing area.

The uniform price for February was $4.03 and for March 1954, it was $3.89.

THE RAINY WEATHER extended over most of the eastern third of the nation during the night and early morning. Thunderstorms rumbled across areas in the southeast and in the central Atlantic states. The rain extended as far west as eastern Minnesota.

There was warming in areas from Wyoming and Nebraska southward into Texas, which had been battered by ice and snow that halted transportation and left hundreds of motorists stranded. The violent spring snowstorm swept over areas in Texas, Colorado, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Wyoming and Nebraska.

In the northwestern Texas Panhandle, the job of digging out of the heavy snow continued. From Amarillo southward skies were clear. Dalhart, Tex., still was without telephone communications.

Early morning temperatures ranged from the 20s in parts of the northern and central Rockies to the middle 70s in southern Florida and in parts of the southwest desert region.

Hearings Adjourned On Water Contracts

Greenwich, Conn., April 14 (AP)—the Connecticut Public Utilities Commission has adjourned hearings until May 9 on a controversial contract aimed at solving the water troubles of Greenwich and Port Chester and Rye, N. Y.

The Greenwich Water Company, which is the sole water supply for Port Chester and Rye, has made an agreement with the Port Chester Water Works Inc. to sell water to Port Chester for the next 75 years. Both firms are subsidiaries of the American Water Works, a private concern.

Port Chester maintains the agreement is a fair one. Greenwich maintains it favors New York communities.

Hearings Adjourned On Water Contracts

Greenwich, Conn., April 14 (AP)—the Connecticut Public Utilities Commission has adjourned hearings until May 9 on a controversial contract aimed at solving the water troubles of Greenwich and Port Chester and Rye, N. Y.

The Greenwich Water Company, which is the sole water supply for Port Chester and Rye, has made an agreement with the Port Chester Water Works Inc. to sell water to Port Chester for the next 75 years. Both firms are subsidiaries of the American Water Works, a private concern. Port Chester maintains the agreement is a fair one. Greenwich maintains it favors New York communities.

March Uniform Milk Price $3.80

New York, April 14 (AP)—Dairy farmers in the New York milkshed will receive a uniform price of $3.80 per hundredweight (46.5 quarts) for milk deliveries during March to 394 approved plants.

The producer butterfat differential for March is 5.4 cents for each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the 3.5 per cent standard.

The prices were announced late yesterday by C. J. Blanford, market administrator of the New York metropolitan milk marketing area.

The uniform price for February was $4.03 and for March 1954, it was $3.89.

THE RAINY WEATHER extended over most of the eastern third of the nation during the night and early morning. Thunderstorms rumbled across areas in the southeast and in the central Atlantic states. The rain extended as far west as eastern Minnesota.

There was warming in areas from Wyoming and Nebraska southward into Texas, which had been battered by ice and snow that halted transportation and left hundreds of motorists stranded. The violent spring snowstorm swept over areas in Texas, Colorado, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Wyoming and Nebraska.

In the northwestern Texas Panhandle, the job of digging out of the heavy snow continued. From Amarillo southward skies were clear. Dalhart, Tex., still was without telephone communications.

Early morning temperatures ranged from the 20s in parts of the northern and central Rockies to the middle 70s in southern Florida and in parts of the southwest desert region.

In the early 19th century, labor unions were classed as conspiracy by courts and were illegal.

Snyder Is Speaker For Church Club

"Glad Headlines and Sad Dreadlines" was the topic used by Frederic Snyder, lecturer, in a talk before the Men's Club of the Old Dutch Church Wednesday night.

Describing the reports concerning the Salk vaccine as "one of the great stories of all times," Snyder termed Dr. Salk's discovery "a tribute to free education and free enterprise."

Snyder pointed out that in his interview with the New Yorker magazine, reported in its issue of Jan. 1, this year, he stressed that much of the year's news would come to headlines in words ending in "Y." In the article he listed "immunity" as one of those words.

"The list grows as one notes that we have had Germany, treaty, energy, Carney, Neely, Meany, Quemoy, gravity, delinquency, robbery—the largest bank robbery in all news history."

"The nation will need two words ending in 'y'—unity and industry— to sustain the economy of the country. The greatest need of all is for an enrichment of spirituality, which provides the pathway to eternity," he said.

Bicycle Is Found

An old red colored boy's bicycle was found abandoned in the High Falls area Wednesday night, and may be claimed by contacting the sheriff's office in Kingston, Undersheriff Clayton Vredenburg reported today.

Salem Uranium In Small Supply

Albany, April 14 (AP)—The state geologist's office reported yesterday the percentage of uranium in radioactive rock taken from a farm near Salem was too small for profitable mining.

Gerald H. Ennis found the rock on his farm straddling the New York-Vermont state line near the village in Washington county. He said he would not give up hope of finding more concentrated ore on the property.

Ennis came here with an assay report that the rock contained .07 per cent uranium oxide. The state report said that was an "insignificant amount."

State Geologist John Broughton said geologists considered a content of 1/10 of one per cent the minimum to merit mining.

Family Acquitted In Father's Death

Maryville, Tenn., April 14 (AP)—A mother and her three children who admitted beating their husband and father to death when he threatened to take them "all to hell together" were acquitted of murder last night.

An all-male jury freed Mrs. Grace Davis and her children after deliberating two hours and 40 minutes.

Mrs. Davis, 41, testified her 39-year-old husband, Sam E. Davis Jr., threatened to drive them all over a 100-foot cliff into a river.

"I knew it was him or us," she said.

She said her two younger children—Katrina, 11, and Clell, 8—looped Katrina's belt around Davis' neck while Mrs. Davis and her older daughter, Shelby Jean, 14, slugged him with a monkey wrench.

AFTER DAVIS asked the family if they had "any last words," Shelby Jean testified, "I turned off the ignition. Then I grabbed a monkey wrench and hit Sam twice. Then mother took the wrench, and I don't know how many times she hit him."

She said she called her father "Sam" because "I didn't know him well enough to call him daddy." The parents, married in 1938, had been separated.

The victim's mother, Mrs. Sam E. Davis, testified earlier that Davis "was a-drinking" when the family visited her home shortly before his death in the family car Feb. 28.

LEAVING DAUGHTER ALONE WITH BOY FRIEND

The following letter is from a mother: "Last Sunday afternoon my daughter had a date with a young man. When they returned home, about 8 o'clock, she asked him to come in for awhile. My husband and I were sitting in the living room watching television when they came in and after about 10 minutes I excused myself and went into another room. I beckoned my husband to leave too as I know young people like to be left alone. My husband made no attempt to leave and stayed right there with them. It is his contention that it would have been wrong for both of us to leave the room. We had quite a discussion over this and so I decided to write to you for your opinion."

There was no reason why either you or your husband should have left the room. For you both to have walked out only 10 minutes after they came in might have given the boy a false impression.

Announcing Son's Engagement

Dear Mrs. Post: My son, stationed in England with the air force, has just written my husband and me telling us of his engagement to an English girl. I would like our friends here to know of the engagement. Would it be proper for me to send a notice to our local newspaper announcing his engagement?

Answer: As the girl your son is engaged to is in England, it will be entirely proper for you to send a notice to your local newspaper stating that the engagement of Mr. John Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jones, is announced to Miss Barbara Britain of London, England.

When You Didn't Hear a Name

Dear Mrs. Post: When being introduced to someone for the first time and you do not happen to get that person's name, is it impolite to ask, "What is your name?"

Answer: It would be better to ask the person who introduced you for her (or his) name. Family Acquitted In Father's Death

Maryville, Tenn., April 14 (AP)—A mother and her three children who admitted beating their husband and father to death when he threatened to take them "all to hell together" were acquitted of murder last night.

An all-male jury freed Mrs. Grace Davis and her children after deliberating two hours and 40 minutes.

Mrs. Davis, 41, testified her 39-year-old husband, Sam E. Davis Jr., threatened to drive them all over a 100-foot cliff into a river.

"I knew it was him or us," she said.

She said her two younger children—Katrina, 11, and Clell, 8—looped Katrina's belt around Davis' neck while Mrs. Davis and her older daughter, Shelby Jean, 14, slugged him with a monkey wrench.

AFTER DAVIS asked the family if they had "any last words," Shelby Jean testified, "I turned off the ignition. Then I grabbed a monkey wrench and hit Sam twice. Then mother took the wrench, and I don't know how many times she hit him."

She said she called her father "Sam" because "I didn't know him well enough to call him daddy." The parents, married in 1938, had been separated.

The victim's mother, Mrs. Sam E. Davis, testified earlier that Davis "was a-drinking" when the family visited her home shortly before his death in the family car Feb. 28.

LEAVING DAUGHTER ALONE WITH BOY FRIEND

The following letter is from a mother: "Last Sunday afternoon my daughter had a date with a young man. When they returned home, about 8 o'clock, she asked him to come in for awhile. My husband and I were sitting in the living room watching television when they came in and after about 10 minutes I excused myself and went into another room. I beckoned my husband to leave too as I know young people like to be left alone. My husband made no attempt to leave and stayed right there with them. It is his contention that it would have been wrong for both of us to leave the room. We had quite a discussion over this and so I decided to write to you for your opinion."

There was no reason why either you or your husband should have left the room. For you both to have walked out only 10 minutes after they came in might have given the boy a false impression.

Announcing Son's Engagement

Dear Mrs. Post: My son, stationed in England with the air force, has just written my husband and me telling us of his engagement to an English girl. I would like our friends here to know of the engagement. Would it be proper for me to send a notice to our local newspaper announcing his engagement?

Answer: As the girl your son is engaged to is in England, it will be entirely proper for you to send a notice to your local newspaper stating that the engagement of Mr. John Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jones, is announced to Miss Barbara Britain of London, England.

Why We Say--

The early sailors were among the most persistent spinners of mermaid stories (mer is the French word for sea). Many sailors actually believed that they saw these half human—half fish creatures, but mermaids never actually existed. Scientists believe that the sailors merely saw seals swimming in the distance and thought that they were the seamaids who were said to shyly disappear when anyone approached.

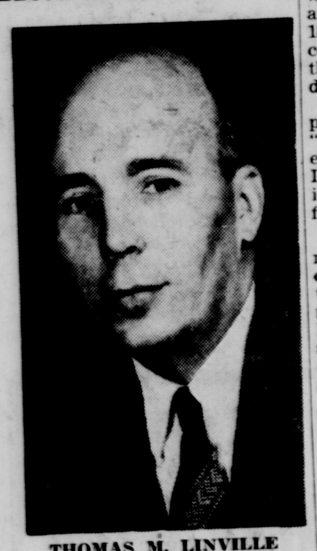
Engineers Will Hear Linville



THOMAS M. LINVILLE

Thomas M. Linville, manager of the research services division of General Electric Company, Schenectady, will address the Ulster County Chapter of the New York State Society of Professional Engineers at a dinner-meeting at the Kirkland Wednesday, April 20, at 7:30.

Interested engineers in the county are invited to attend. Reservations must be made by Monday, April 18.

MR. LINVILLE is a graduate of the University of Virginia, from which he received an electrical engineering degree in 1926. In the same year he joined General Electric and has served in the Pittsfield Motor division, engineering general division, Philadelphia district office, aeronautics and marine division.

He was a member of naval technical missions at Pearl Harbor in 1942 and in Europe in 1945, receiving a certificate of commendation from the U. S. Navy. The General Electric Company recognized him with the Charles A. Coffin Award for outstanding development of design methods for D. C. machines and application to propulsion machines for submarines in World War 2."

of policemen who lose their lives in performance of duty. It would provide $3,000 for widows and $1,000 for each child under 18 years of age, of policemen in counties and cities, who lose their lives in the performance of duty."

The bill is intended to improve police service, Keresman said: "to raise morale and increase efficiency in police departments." It is not only men in police service today, who would be benefited, he stressed.

"YOUNG MEN seeking a career after a long and expensive education should be attracted to the police ranks, but they are not," he said, "because the police job does not measure up to standards of the American way of living. We need to attract and hold career men."

Opposition expected, he said, was of "a peculiar and dangerous type." They advance a fallacious claim that a 40-hour week would be expensive. Answering this, he said, "it is far more expensive to continue the present turnover in personnel, the inability to get men, and to have adequate law-enforcement, than it is to give the police job standard working conditions."

The Kingston Patrolmen's Association also seeks favorable action by the governor on a bill that would amend a law dealing with payment of salary and hospitalization of policemen injured in the line of duty. The law mentions "certain towns and villages," the amendment would extend its provisions to all policemen injured.

Another bill on which the association seeks favorable action by the governor, deals with provisions for widows and children

Named Acting Postmaster

Newburgh, April 14 (AP) — Philip Levy, Orange county Republican chairman since 1952, said today he was notified of his appointment as acting postmaster at Newburgh. The notification came from Rep. He will be succeeded in that post by Sheriff George Bullis, now first vice chairman.

Florida Invents Some Tasty, Delicious Orange Recipes

ORANGE SHERBET CUPS, easy and quick to prepare, are a Florida dessert delight for young and old.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

We were in the Florida citrus country while the trees were in blossom. The fragrance was heady. In Lakeland, headquarters of the Florida Citrus Commission, we talked with Dr. L. G. McDowell, director of research. He told us that during the last growing year, Florida produced 138,300,000 boxes of citrus (grapefruit and oranges, tangerines and limes), that being 34 per cent of the world crop.

Lakeland is a lovely little city built around lakes. Florida Southern College is on the shore of one, with its startling modern buildings designed by Frank Lloyd Wright. Orange and grapefruit groves surround the city for miles and miles. And everyone looks well fed.

Here is a local recipe based on Florida oranges and sunshine.

Orange Sherbet Cups
(Yield: 2 quarts orange sherbet)

Eight oranges, orange juice, 1 envelope unflavored gelatin, ¼ cup lime juice, 1 cup sugar, 1 egg white.

To prepare orange cups cut off slice from top of orange; scoop out pulp. Make picot edge with paring knife. Strain pulp; measure juice. Add enough orange juice to make 4 cups. Sprinkle gelatin on ½ cup of the orange juice to soften. Place over boiling water; stir until dissolved. Add sugar and remaining orange juice; stir until sugar is dissolved.

Pour into an 8-cup loaf pan or several refrigerator trays. Place in freezing compartment of refrigerator; freeze, stirring occasionally. Break up frozen mixture in tray; turn into chilled bowl; add egg white and beat with electric mixer or rotary beater until smooth.

Return to freezing compartment; freeze until firm. Scoop approximately ½ cup into each orange cup; garnish with mint and serve immediately. Serve remaining 1 quart sherbet as desired.

Pravda Raps Farmers

London, April 14 (AP)—The Soviet Union disclosed a serious agricultural crisis in northwest Russia, today and blamed an "anti-government attitude" for much of the trouble. Pravda, the organ of the Soviet Communist party, devoted a long front page editorial to the situation and Moscow radio broadcast the accusation to Soviet papers all over the country. "Many collective farms are not fulfilling their obligations to the state for the delivery of grain, milk, meat, potatoes and other produce and are receiving from the state, as a subsidy, more grain than they are delivering," said Pravda.

Says Reds Must Be In

Princeton, N. J., April 14 (AP)—Canadian Foreign Secretary Lester B. In a lecture here last night, Pearson said the Communists were the actual government of China and must be considered in negotiations.

With their national committee meeting here tomorrow, Democrats in the Senate put on yesterday a show of unity in praising the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

In all, 23 Democratic senators of all shades of opinion arose to laud Roosevelt accomplishments. Republican Sen. Wiley of Wisconsin said Roosevelt "demonstrated . . . courage" and was "much misunderstood" during his lifetime.

The Democrats are building up to a $100-a-plate dinner here Saturday night in honor of Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn of Texas. Among those scheduled to speak are Truman, Adlai E. Stevenson and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Rayburn's speech before a crowd the national committee estimates at 3,000 will be carried by three national radio networks.

Luterans Increase

New York, April 14 (AP)—Membership in the United Lutheran Church in America increased 62,704 to a record 2,202,791 during 1954, it was reported yesterday by Dr. F. Eppling Reinartz, church secretary. He said annual reports from the 32 church synods also showed Sunday school enrollment increased by 34,231 to a total of 755,982.

McLeod told reporters that 24,810 visas have been issued so far. He said over 3,700 of these were for refugees and the rest were for aliens eligible for admission as relatives of U. S. citizens.

IMMIGRATION Service figures showed 16,713 entries up to April 1, and McLeod said that of the persons issued visas as refugees, 1,044 have actually entered the country.

The processing of aliens in the relative category is easier, he said, because they have not had to have the job and housing assurances required of refugees. He also said the program, as revised by Congress last year, is about 50-50 for refugees and relatives.

"We feel we are doing a good job under the circumstances of trying to make this rather difficult law work," McLeod said.

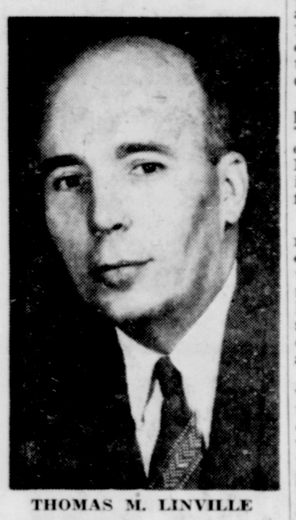
Engineers Will Hear Linville



THOMAS M. LINVILLE

Thomas M. Linville, manager of the research services division of General Electric Company, Schenectady, will address the Ulster County Chapter of the New York State Society of Professional Engineers at a dinner-meeting at the Kirkland Wednesday, April 20, at 7:30.

Interested engineers in the county are invited to attend. Reservations must be made by Monday, April 18.

MR. LINVILLE is a graduate of the University of Virginia, from which he received an electrical engineering degree in 1926. In the same year he joined General Electric and has served in the Pittsfield Motor division, engineering general division, Philadelphia district office, aeronautics and marine division.

He was a member of naval technical missions at Pearl Harbor in 1942 and in Europe in 1945, receiving a certificate of commendation from the U. S. Navy. The General Electric Company recognized him with the Charles A. Coffin Award for outstanding development of design methods for D. C. machines and application to propulsion machines for submarines in World War 2."

of policemen who lose their lives in performance of duty. It would provide $3,000 for widows and $1,000 for each child under 18 years of age, of policemen in counties and cities, who lose their lives in the performance of duty."

The bill is intended to improve police service, Keresman said: "to raise morale and increase efficiency in police departments." It is not only men in police service today, who would be benefited, he stressed.

"YOUNG MEN seeking a career after a long and expensive education should be attracted to the police ranks, but they are not," he said, "because the police job does not measure up to standards of the American way of living. We need to attract an' hold career men."

Opposition expected, he said, was of "a peculiar and dangerous type." They advance a fallacious claim that a 40-hour week would be expensive. Answering this, he said, "it is far more expensive to continue the present turnover in personnel, the inability to get men, and to have adequate law-enforcement, than it is to give the police job standard working conditions."

The Kingston Patrolmen's Association also seeks favorable action by the governor on a bill that would amend a law dealing with payment of salary and hospitalization of policemen injured in the line of duty. The law mentions "certain towns and villages," the amendment would extend its provisions to all policemen injured.

Another bill on which the association seeks favorable action by the governor, deals with provisions for widows and children

He will be succeeded in that post by Sheriff George Bullis, now first vice chairman.

Florida Invents Some Tasty, Delicious Orange Recipes

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

We were in the Florida citrus country while the trees were in blossom. The fragrance was heady. In Lakeland, headquarters of the Florida Citrus Commission, we talked with Dr. L. G. McDowell, director of research. He told us that during the last growing year, Florida produced 138,300,000 boxes of citrus (grapefruit and oranges, tangerines and limes), that being 34 per cent of the world crop.

Lakeland is a lovely little city built around lakes. Florida Southern College is on the shore of one, with its startling modern buildings designed by Frank Lloyd Wright. Orange and grapefruit groves surround the city for miles and miles. And everyone looks well fed.

Here is a local recipe based on Florida oranges and sunshine.

Orange Sherbet Cups
(Yield: 2 quarts orange sherbet)

Eight oranges, orange juice, 1 envelope unflavored gelatin, ¼ cup lime juice, 1 cup sugar, 1 egg white.

To prepare orange cups cut off slice from top of orange; scoop out pulp. Make picot edge with paring knife. Strain pulp; measure juice. Add enough orange juice to make 4 cups. Sprinkle gelatin on ½ cup of the orange juice to soften. Place over boiling water; stir until dissolved. Add sugar and remaining orange juice; stir until sugar is dissolved.

Pour into an 8-cup loaf pan or several refrigerator trays. Place in freezing compartment of refrigerator; freeze, stirring occasionally. Break up frozen mixture in tray; turn into chilled bowl; add egg white and beat with electric mixer or rotary beater until smooth.

Return to freezing compartment; freeze until firm. Scoop approximately ½ cup into each orange cup; garnish with mint and serve immediately. Serve remaining 1 quart sherbet as desired.

Pravda Raps Farmers

London, April 14 (AP)—The Soviet Union disclosed a serious agricultural crisis in northwest Russia, today and blamed an "anti-government attitude" for much of the trouble. Pravda, the organ of the Soviet Communist party, devoted a long front page editorial to the situation and Moscow radio broadcast the accusation to Soviet papers all over the country. "Many collective farms are not fulfilling their obligations to the state for the delivery of grain, milk, meat, potatoes and other produce and are receiving from the state, as a subsidy, more grain than they are delivering," said Pravda.

Says Reds Must Be In

Princeton, N. J., April 14 (AP)—Canadian Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson says talks aimed at peaceful settlement of Formosan and Indochinese problems will fail without participation of the Chinese Communist government. In a lecture here last night, Pearson said the Communists were the actual government of China and must be considered in negotiations.

and "confusion" among cabinet officers.

With their national committee meeting here tomorrow, Democrats in the Senate put on yesterday a show of unity in praising the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

In all, 23 Democratic senators of all shades of opinion arose to laud Roosevelt accomplishments. Republican Sen. Wiley of Wisconsin said Roosevelt "demonstrated . . . courage" and was "much misunderstood" during his lifetime.

The Democrats are building up to a $100-a-plate dinner here Saturday night in honor of Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn of Texas. Among those scheduled to speak are Truman, Adlai E. Stevenson and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Rayburn's speech before a crowd to the national committee estimates at 3,000 will be carried by three national radio networks.

Luterans Increase

New York, April 14 (AP)—Membership in the United Lutheran Church in America increased 62,704 to a record 2,202,791 during 1954, it was reported yesterday by Dr. F. Eppling Reinartz, church secretary. He said annual reports from the 32 church synods also showed Sunday school enrollment increased by 34,231 to a total of 755,982.

THE RECORD SHOP: Good news—Bill Kenny's first release for Label X will be new arrangements of some of his old Ink Spot hits.

"The originals were made 16, 17 years ago," says Bill. "Compared to the sound on today's records, they're primitive. So this way I'll do them in hi-fi. And my voice has improved, too. A new generation has grown up and they've never heard songs like 'Whispering Grass' and 'We Three' with good sound. To them, these will be new songs."

And to us old-timers, they'll be pleasant memories.

The latest hobby along Broadway seems to be predicting a wonderful career for Jaye P. Morgan. It seems to be a unanimous conclusion that this is one gal that can't miss the large lights. She has everything—a nice voice and a tricky way with a song, a pleasant personality and beautiful blonde looks.

She has everything—except dangling earrings. And that tragic fact is the work of her two managers, Bullets Durgom and Ray Katz. They have decided that she doesn't look well in big, hanging earrings, so she has none.

This emphasizes the importance of managers in the modern show business set-up; they even dictate what kind of earrings a gal can wear. Not that Jaye is complaining. Far from it.

"They've done so much for me," she says. "After all, I've only made two records for RCA, and already big things have happened."

Durgom and Katz made her take voice lessons. (She's been singing since she was a child without them.) They got her the RCA contract before she even knew negotiations were underway. They go with her when she shops for clothes. They do everything but pick her songs—and that's done by the RCA musical brass, Joe Carlton and Hugo Winterhalter.

A FEW FAST FACTS: Mercury's Denise Lor (of the Garry Moore TV show) has resumed her operatic studies. She may sing arias as well as pops for the label . . . Kermit Schafer and Allen Funt working on a "Candid Mike" album for Jubilee . . . Mel Allen, the sportscaster, is the latest to consider recording. Mel, who sings, too, is dickering with Columbia . . . Patti Page got a letter of complaint about her new record, "Little Crazy Quilt." The letter was from an Indian named Little Crazy Quilt.

DICK'S PICKS: Slim pickings this week. The best: "Feelin' Kinda Happy" (Damita Jo, RCA); "Kvi-Vi-Vi-Vi-Vitt" (The Banjo Boys, Capitol); "The Siamese Cat Song" (The Coquettes, RCA); "The Blue Scarecrow" (David Carroll, Mercury); "Sluefoot" (Ray Anthony, Capitol); "The Message" (Lincoln Chase, Columbia); "If I Had My Life to Live Over" (Sonny Howard, RCA).

Airborne Fire Alarm

Hillsboro, Ore. (AP)—An air force jet pilot spotted a flaming house, buzzed low and attracted firemen and neighbors. The family was away. The house and two sheds were destroyed but firemen sped to the scene in the belief that a plane had crashed.

Firemen, Police Praised by Valeo

Work of firemen and the police at the fire April 9, in the building housing Valeo's Hardware store, 672 Broadway was praised in a letter written to Mayor Frederick H. Stang by Guy Valeo, the mayor's office revealed today.

The letter said:

"I would like to make known to you our feeling of appreciation and admiration for the splendid work done by both the firemen and policemen during the recent fire in the building in which our business is located. It was due to the efficiency of the firemen in protecting our stock that we had a minimum of water damage.

"ON BEHALF of Mrs. Valeo and myself, will you be kind enough to express to the fire department our sincere appreciation."

The fire started in the kitchen of a second-floor apartment in the three-story building and was checked by firemen as it was about to spread upward through a skylight opening last Saturday morning.

Esopus Burglary Attributed to Boys

A burglary reported Sunday afternoon at a river house owned by Mrs. Harriet C. Freer at Ulster Park has been attributed to two boys, 11 and 12 years of age, it was reported by County Invesigator Arthur H. Brown.

The same youngsters also allegedly entered the nearby building owned by Isador Rosenweig of Brooklyn and caused some damage, Brown said.

One of two boats missing from the Freer place, a canoe, has been recovered by the Dutchess county sheriff's office.

The other boat, a 14-foot metal rowboat, is still missing. It is expected that restitution will be made and no official action will be taken against the youngsters.

Du Mont Telesets* Dropped 25 Feet Unhurt

EAST PATERSON, NEW JERSEY—Two Du Mont television receivers immersed in the Passaic River came out of the water ready for operation after they had been dried out, and apparently suffered no damage.

One set was dropped directly 25 feet from the Market Street Bridge, while the other was lowered by rope. After a few minutes under water, the sets were picked up by rowboats and returned to the Allen B. Du Mont Laboratories' plant for operating tests.

The two sets had no special protections beyond the careful construction previously demonstrated by 16 standard Du Mont "torture tests." These tests, including dropping and submersion tests, shaking, freezing and prolonged exposure to humidity, are applied to Du Mont sets taken at random from the production line. All Du Mont sets are tested in operation and checked for cabinet sturdiness before they are released for shipment.

The latest hobby along Broadway seems to be predicting a wonderful career for Jaye P. Morgan. It seems to be a unanimous conclusion that this is one gal that can't miss the large lights. She has everything—a nice voice and a tricky way with a song, a pleasant personality and beautiful blonde looks.

She has everything—except dangling earrings. And that tragic fact is the work of her two managers, Bullets Durgom and Ray Katz. They have decided that she doesn't look well in big, hanging earrings, so she has none.

This emphasizes the importance of managers in the modern show business set-up; they even dictate what kind of earrings a gal can wear. Not that Jaye is complaining. Far from it.

"They've done so much for me," she says. "After all, Eve only made two records for RCA, and already big things have happened."

Durgom and Katz made her take voice lessons. (She's been singing since she was a child without them.) They got her the RCA contract before she even knew negotiations were underway. They go with her when she shops for clothes. They do everything but pick her songs—and that's done by the RCA musical brass, Joe Carlton and Hugo Winterhalter.

A FEW FAST FACTS: Mercury's Denise Lor (of the Garry Moore TV show) has resumed her operatic studies. She may sing arias as well as pops for the label . . . Kermit Schafer and Allen Funt working on a "Candid Mike" album for Jubilee . . . Mel Allen, the sportscaster, is the latest to consider recording. Mel, who sings, too, is dickering with Columbia . . . Patti Page got a letter of complaint about her new record, "Little Crazy Quilt." The letter was from an Indian named Little Crazy Quilt.

DICK'S PICKS: Slim pickings this week. The best: "Feelin' Kinda Happy" (Damita Jo, RCA); "Kvi-Vi-Vi-Vi-Vitt" (The Banjo Boys, Capitol); "The Siamese Cat Song" (The Coquettes, RCA); "The Blue Scarecrow" (David Carroll, Mercury); "Sluefoot" (Ray Anthony, Capitol); "The Message" (Lincoln Chase, Columbia); "If I Had My Life to Live Over" (Sonny Howard, RCA).

Airborne Fire Alarm

Hillsboro, Ore. (AP)—An air force jet pilot spotted a flaming house, buzzed low and attracted firemen and neighbors. The family was away. The house and two sheds were destroyed but firemen sped to the scene in the belief that a plane had crashed.

Firemen, Police Praised by Valeo

Work of firemen and the police at the fire April 9, in the building housing Valeo's Hardware store, 672 Broadway was praised in a letter written to Mayor Frederick H. Stang by Guy Valeo, the mayor's office revealed today.

The letter said:

"I would like to make known to you our feeling of appreciation and admiration for the splendid work done by both the firemen and policemen during the recent fire in the building in which our business is located. It was due to the efficiency of the firemen in protecting our stock that we had a minimum of water damage.

"ON BEHALF of Mrs. Valeo and myself, will you be kind enough to express to the fire department our sincere appreciation."

The fire started in the kitchen of a second-floor apartment in the three-story building and was checked by firemen as it was about to spread upward through a skylight opening last Saturday morning.

Esopus Burglary Attributed to Boys

A burglary reported Sunday afternoon at a river house owned by Mrs. Harriet C. Freer at Ulster Park has been attributed to two boys, 11 and 12 years of age, it was reported by County Invesigator Arthur H. Brown.

The same youngsters also allegedly entered the nearby building owned by Isador Rosenweig of Brooklyn and caused some damage, Brown said.

One of two boats missing from the Freer place, a canoe, has been recovered by the Dutchess county sheriff's office.

The other boat, a 14-foot metal rowboat, is still missing. It is expected that restitution will be made and no official action will be taken against the youngsters.

Du Mont Telesets* Dropped 25 Feet Unhurt

EAST PATERSON, NEW JERSEY—Two Du Mont television receivers immersed in the Passaic River came out of the water ready for operation after they had been dried out, and apparently suffered no damage.

One set was dropped directly 25 feet from the Market Street Bridge, while the other was lowered by rope. After a few minutes under water, the sets were picked up by rowboats and returned to the Allen B. Du Mont Laboratories' plant for operating tests.

The two sets had no special protections beyond the careful construction previously demonstrated by 16 standard Du Mont "torture tests." These tests, including dropping and submersion tests, shaking, freezing and prolonged exposure to humidity, are applied to Du Mont sets taken at random from the production line. All Du Mont sets are tested in operation and checked for cabinet sturdiness before they are released for shipment.

WEEKLY FOOD REVIEW

(By The Associated Press)

Beef and lamb will be the big favorites as meat features in the nation's food stores this weekend. Prices slightly below those of a week ago will be the rule.

Chuck roast or steak, sirloin steak, prime ribs, round roast and chopped beef will be among the prominently advertised specials. Leg of lamb will be featured and there will be lower prices here and there on lamb chops. A few stores will cut prices on lamb shoulder roast.

PORK PRICES will run about the same as a week ago but some stores will have specials on pork chops. Frying chickens will show little price change. In some markets, veal chops will be lower.

Wholesale prices of beef, pork and lamb showed little change during the week. The end of the Lenten season was accompanied by abundant supplies of beef. Pork marketing continues heavy.

Price tags on both butter and eggs will follow no set pattern this weekend—they'll be up in some places and down in others. Incidentally, housewives have boosted their purchase of butter this year, spurred by lower prices. The government estimates that butter buying was up 19 per cent in February over a year earlier. At the same time, margarine purchasing rose nine per cent.

The list of outstanding buys in vegetables and fruits as compiled by produce specialists is the shortest in a long time. It includes only onions, eggplants and escarole. Potatoes, long an outstanding buy, are higher this week, mainly because the new crop has been slow in reaching the market because of bad weather.

PRODUCE MEN say that worthwhile buys include celery, peppers, carrots, beans, iceberg lettuce, new crop cabbage, beets, endives, and spinach. In the moderately priced category are asparagus, cucumbers and new crop peas. Supplies of asparagus are increasing and the price is coming down.

Oranges and grapefruit and apples continue to be the best buys in fruit. Canteloupes are considered moderately priced. The U. S. Department of Agriculture notes that raisins and small dried prunes are abundant.

The USDA has a further recommendation. It says canned sweet corn and canned snap beans are big vegetable buys right now.

Decision Is Held Back on Zone By City Board

Decision on an application of the Cities Service Oil Co., to guarantee a business zone designation for its property at Albany and Foxhall avenues, which is to be renovated was withheld pending further study at a meeting of the local zoning board last night.

Attorney Joseph Avis, board president, said a further check would be made before a decision is given by the board. The company, however, applied for Common Council approval of a business zone designation at the regular April meeting, and if the council acts favorably, no further action will be required by the zoning board.

THE COMPANY noted in its application to the council that the property currently has a non-conforming status, and it sought a definite business zone designation, noting that the business existed there before present zoning regulations and that other properties in the area are classified as business properties. An area on the opposite side of the street is up for rezoning.

The company announced that it would raze the present service station and replace it with a modern two-bay station.

South Seas Election

Papeete, Tahiti (AP)—A round-the-world tourist ship arrived here with tourists eager to find out first hand if Tahiti was as gay and carefree as they had heard it would be. Financial and Commercial

New York, April 14 (AP)—Motors were higher today in a mixed stock market.

Prices in the early afternoon had gains to around 2 points. A number of losses from 1 to 2 points were in the list.

Business was right around the level of yesterday's 2,820,000 shares. The market yesterday moved up to its second straight new record high.

Higher with the motors were the utilities and a long list of individual issues. Lower were the oils, airlines, rubbers, and railroads. Other major divisions were steady to mixed.

Skeleton Is Old Derman Advises

A human skeleton found last week during the excavation for a new home at Hurley had been in the ground for many years, according to Dr. Herbert Derman, director of the Kingston City Laboratory.

Examination disclosed that the skeleton was possibly that of a Negro woman about 18 to 20 years of age.

NO ESTIMATE could be made of how long ago the subject died, although Dr. Derman said the skeleton was definitely "real old."

The skeleton was turned over to the city laboratory after the sheriff's office was notified that it was uncovered by Oscar Czygan, employed by Folmer Nissen of Boiceville, a contractor, in excavating for the basement of a new home adjoining the home of Dr. Alfred W. Harder on Route 209.

Could Increase Cures

Only 15 per cent of rectal cancers are cured today, but early diagnosis and prompt treatment could increase such cures to 70 per cent.

Decision Is Held Back on Zone By City Board

Decision on an application of the Cities Service Oil Co., to guarantee a business zone designation for its property at Albany and Foxhall avenues, which is to be renovated was withheld pending further study at a meeting of the local zoning board last night.

Attorney Joseph Avis, board president, said a further check would be made before a decision is given by the board. The company, however, applied for Common Council approval of a business zone designation at the regular April meeting, and if the council acts favorably, no further action will be required by the zoning board.

THE COMPANY noted in its application to the council that the property currently has a non-conforming status, and it sought a definite business zone designation, noting that the business existed there before present zoning regulations and that other properties in the area are classified as business properties. An area on the opposite side of the street is up for rezoning.

The company announced that it would raze the present service station and replace it with a modern two-bay station.

New York, April 14 (AP)—Motors were higher today in a mixed stock market.

Prices in the early afternoon had gains to around 2 points. A number of losses from 1 to 2 points were in the list.

Business was right around the level of yesterday's 2,820,000 shares. The market yesterday moved up to its second straight new record high.

Robert Shaw Chorale, Orchestra to Appear In 1955-56 Series of Community Concerts

The Robert Shaw Chorale and Orchestra, one of the top attractions in the concert world today, will be presented in the 1955-56 series of Community Concerts Association. The group of 30 singers and orchestra under the personal direction of Robert Shaw, are supreme in the choral field according to critics throughout the nation and their fame has placed them with Heifetz and Rubinstein in box-office popularity.

Announcement of the concert, which will be one of three in the series, was made at the annual captain's tea this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Bernard Forst, 32 Maiden Lane. Plans were made for the annual membership campaign scheduled for the week of April 24.

Workers will begin immediately to contact last year's subscribers for a first report at the kick-off meeting, Sunday, April 24, 4:30 p. m. at Governor Clinton Hotel. Both Mrs. Forst and Mrs. Reynolds B. Carr, co-chairmen of the drive, emphasized the importance of knowing how many of the former members plan to subscribe again.

THE COMMUNITY CONCERTS Association plan requires that admissions to concerts be only by membership cards and these must be obtained during the one week of campaign, April 24 to 30. By this arrangement concerts are brought to Kingston without loss and the artists are chosen according to the success of the drive. Three concerts are scheduled during the late fall and early spring seasons. Artists for the other two programs will be announced as the campaign progresses. Anyone is eligible for membership simply by paying the yearly dues.

Final plans for the campaign will be announced at the opening meeting. Those planning to attend are asked to notify Mrs. Herbert I. Bloom April 15, 16, 18, 20 or 21.

Robert Shaw Chorale, Orchestra to Appear In 1955-56 Series of Community Concerts

The Robert Shaw Chorale and Orchestra, one of the top attractions in the concert world today, will be presented in the 1955-56 series of Community Concerts Association. The group of 30 singers and orchestra under the personal direction of Robert Shaw, are supreme in the choral field according to critics throughout the nation and their fame has placed them with Heifetz and Rubinstein in box-office popularity.

Announcement of the concert, which will be one of three in the series, was made at the annual captain's tea this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Bernard Forst, 32 Maiden Lane. Plans were made for the annual membership campaign scheduled for the week of April 24.

Workers will begin immediately to contact last year's subscribers for a first report at the kick-off meeting, Sunday, April 24, 4:30 p. m. at Governor Clinton Hotel. Both Mrs. Forst and Mrs. Reynolds B. Carr, co-chairmen of the drive, emphasized the importance of knowing how many of the former members plan to subscribe again.

THE COMMUNITY CONCERTS Association plan requires that admissions to concerts be only by membership cards and these must be obtained during the one week of campaign, April 24 to 30. By this arrangement concerts are brought to Kingston without loss and the artists are chosen according to the success of the drive. Three concerts are scheduled during the late fall and early spring seasons. Artists for the other two programs will be announced as the campaign progresses. Anyone is eligible for membership simply by paying the yearly dues.

Final plans for the campaign will be announced at the opening meeting. Those planning to attend are asked to notify Mrs. Herbert I. Bloom April 15, 16, 18, 20 or 21.

Kingston One of Eight Cities in State With Small Claims Court, Says Judge Mino

Kingston is one of eight cities in New York state which has a Small Claims Court in which the court in an informal hearing can decide cases which do not require lawyer's services, explained City Judge Raymond J. The discussion period which followed Judge Mino's talk displayed interest in judicial phase of the local government by Chapter members, particularly with regard to juvenile delinquency.

Weather Bad for Season Openers, Roberts and Ford Shine

Philly Pitcher Gives 3 Hits; Nats Collect Only 2 Singles

By ED WILKS
(The Associated Press)

It couldn't have been a worse day for pitchers if the hitters had ordered it special. But Robin Roberts and Whitey Ford shrugged off the inclement stuff like a pair of guys working for a resort chamber of commerce.

In Philadelphia it was dreary and rainy, yet Roberts no-hit the world champion New York Giants for 8 1/3 innings yesterday before getting tagged for three hits and two runs. The Phils' righthanded ace still claimed a 4-2 victory, however, in the National League opener for both clubs.

And in New York, with temperatures in the 40s and wind lashing a steady mist, Ford allowed Washington just two singles as the Yankees brawled into the American League season with a 19-1 rout of the Senators. Despite the cold, the young lefty went nine innings for the first time this spring.

THE WEATHER was pretty miserable everywhere on a lean baseball day. The smallest opening day crowd in a quarter of a century at Ebbets Field—6,999—shivered while Brooklyn and Carl Erskine beat Pittsburgh 6-1 in the only other National League game scheduled.

In the American, Detroit's Tigers who welcomed Kansas City into the league graciously on Tuesday, turned about and clubbed the Athletics 10-2. Rain postponed the Boston at Baltimore game.

What happened at Connie Mack Stadium was just another chapter in Roberts' frustrating chase of a no-hit, no-run game. He's been thwarted in fantastic fashion thus far. At Cincinnati last May 13, for instance, he was greeted by a leadoff home run by Bobby Adams—then retired the next 27 men he faced to win 8-1.

ALTHOUGH ROBERTS' mastery has given him five straight seasons of 20 or more victories, the May 13 game was but his second one-hit performance. The other came last April 29, when he held Milwaukee to a third-inning double by Del Crandall to win 4-0.

Except for an error and "a curve that didn't break enough," Roberts possibly could have matched Bobby Feller's singular feat of pitching a no-hitter on opening day. The Cleveland star did it against the Chicago White Sox in 1940.

ALVIN DARK faced Roberts with one out and a man on by error in the ninth Robin was ahead of the hitter with a 0-2 count when the Giants' captain singled on the errant curve.

Before the side was out, Monte Irvin doubled both runners home and Hank Thompson scratched a single.

The Phils' runs came in pairs—two off Johnny Antonelli, a 21-7 lefty last year, in the fifth and two off Marv Grissom in the sixth.

Roberts' pitching overshadowed the end of Richie Ashburn's consecutive game streak at 731, shy of Gus Suhr's record 822 with Pittsburgh in the '30s. Ashburn and Del Ennis, injured in an outfield collision last week, are nursing banged up knees.

Ford had a more relaxed afternoon than did Roberts and found time to drive in four runs on three singles. Washington's two singles were by Roy Sievers in the fourth and Pete Runnells in the fifth.

Ford walked five but fanned eight. He would have had a shutout except for a balk when he slipped from the mound in the sixth with a runner on third.

THE YANKS teed off on starter Maury McDermott and three rookies for their most potent attack since beating Washington 22-1 on Aug. 12, 1953, Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra and Bill Srowron homered in the 16-hit romp.

Brooklyn's victory was in doubt until the seventh when a five-run rally broke a 1-1 tie. Junior Gilliam led it off with a homer and Carl Furillo capped it with a three-run blast. Max Surkont was the loser while Erskine won his first opening decision in four tries.

Detroit smacked the A's for four runs off loser Arnie Portocarrero in the third and five off Ed Burtschy in the sixth. Harvey Kuenn homered and doubled for the Tigers and Steve Gromek, the veteran righthander, scattered eight hits.

PITCHING: Robin Roberts, Phillies—pitched no-hit ball for 8 1/3 innings, then gave up three hits and two unearned runs while beating the New York Giants 4-2 in the opening game for both clubs.

BATTING: Mickey Mantle, Yankees—got three hits, one a booming homer to the right-center field bleachers in Yankee stadium, in five trips and drove in four runs as the Yanks routed Washington 19-1.

Olson on Decision; Chances Good for Moore Go

PHILLIES' ACE BEARS DOWN—Pitcher Robin Roberts sets his jaw and bears down with his high hard one, in Philadelphia, April 13, as he seeks his openig-game victory for the Phillies over the Giants in the delayed National League opener. Through the first six innings, no Giant batter managed to get a hit off Roberts, who finished a 3-hit performance with a 4-2 win. Roberts is shown at the finish of a smooth follow-through. Alston Is on Campy's List; Roy Dropped to 8th in Order

Brooklyn, April 14 (AP)—Usually mild-mannered and even-tempered, Roy Campanella is steamed to a boiling point because Manager Walter Alston has relegated him to eighth spot in the Brooklyn Dodger batting order.

The slugging catcher, who insists the troublesome left hand that ruined his 1954 season is completely healed, made no attempt to conceal his disgust as he talked about his demotion from the cleanup (fourth) spot for yesterday's opening day game against Pittsburgh.

"That's fine encouragement he (Alston) is giving me," Campy growled, "sending me in to hit with the bat boy. That guy must think I'm a butcher with a bat. Dropping me all the way down to eighth just shows the confidence he has in me.

"IT'S ALL RIGHT with me though if that's the way he wants it," Roy added, bitterly. "I'll hit any place he tells me to. But I'm determined to prove to him that he's wrong when he calls me an eighth place hitter. He only thinks I can't hit but I know I can."

It was pointed out that Campy had not exactly knocked down any fences during the spring training games, hitting only .235 with three home runs. This, following his poorest season in the majors in which his batting average dropped from .312 to .207 certainly was no strong recommendation for a fourth place hitter.

"Look," he exclaimed, "I know I'm not being hard-headed about this. I don't care what I hit in practice games. They don't mean anything. All I'm interested in is the way the hand reacted to catching every day.

"My hand is okay now. That's all that matters to me. I'll hit. I'm certain of that. Maybe he don't have confidence in me. But I have. Lots of it. So I didn't hit much in Florida. Well, I never could hit down there. With the exception of the one in Miami, there's not a park down there with a decent background.

"All my playing days I've been hitting either fourth, fifth or sixth. Now all of a sudden I'm hitting eighth. Heck, I got no right hitting down there when I'm healthy. I never batted eighth even in the little leagues.

"I'M BEING WASTED hitting just ahead of the pitcher. You know what's going to happen. Those pitchers are no dummies out there. They'll never give me a good ball to hit at with men in scoring position. I'll either have to swing at bad balls or take my base on balls. They'd be crazy to pitch to me with the pitcher up next."

Warned that the story might get him in hot water, Campanella grinned wryly:

"So what?" was his reply. "The only thing worse that he can do is have me hitting tenth. he can't do that unless he has me sit on the bench."

P. S.—Campy got one hit in 4 at bats as the Brooks beat the Pirates 6-1.

Albany, April 14 (AP)—Gov. Harriman has approved bills that prohibit for another three years perpetual open seasons and bag limits on black, grey and fox squirrels and hares and cottontail rabbits.

Kartalian-Tuttle Top Local Boxing Card

Amateur boxing returns to the city tonight with the Glasco Athletic Club presenting an all-star card of New England and Adirondack AAU champions at 8:30 at the municipal auditorium.

Ken Barr, Rosendale knockout artist, is slated in a three-rounder. A flock of other standouts are scheduled. Officials for the card include Bill Singer and Lou Shor, judges; timekeeper, Sherwood Davis and Dick McCarthy, announcer.

Comforter, Burroughs Tied For First in Federation

In another sizzling finish, Comforter and Burrough's Club go into the final week of the Federation American League schedule all tied for first place with 46-35 records.

One game off the pace are Clinton Avenue and St. James with 45-36 marks on the year.

St. James threw a monkey wrench into Comforter's hold on first place last night by sweeping three games. Burroughs, at the same time, missed the chance of going into first place by dropping a pair to Trinity Lutheran.

While all of this was going on Clinton Avenue took two from the First Baptists.

Perc Slover rapped 519; Art Crist 519; Harold Pine 515; Doug Kennedy 497; Howard "Hod" Spaulding 490; Jack Spader 461 and Jim Raymond 452.

Team results:

Clinton Avenue (2), First Baptists (1); St. James (3), Comforter (0); Trinity Lutheran (2), Burrough's Club (1).

Basketball

Esopus LL Sets Practice Dates

Esopus Legion Little League has set Saturday, April 16, as the date for tryouts for all new candidates for this year's league.

The holdovers will report for tryouts on Saturday, April 23. Unofficial estimates are that 42 of last year's 60 players will return for the 1955 season. Nine of the holdovers played on the all-star squad.

Detroit Is Favorite In Finale

Detroit, April 14 (AP)—The hockey season, 189 days old, comes to an end tonight.

The Detroit Red Wings and Montreal Canadiens—who have played more than 80 games apiece since the start of the season last October—clash in Olympia Stadium in the seventh and deciding game of the Stanley Cup playoffs.

The Wings, who are shooting for their seventh Stanley Cup—which would tie them with Toronto—are unbeaten at home since Dec. 19. They've gone through 23 games in that time. For that reason they are favored over the Canadiens.

National Audience Misses Last Round of TV Fight

San Francisco, April 14 (AP)—The "new" Bobo Olson, who picked up a crushing righthand punch with nine pounds extra weight, is ready for a crack at the light heavyweight championship of the world.

The Hawaiian-born middleweight king, departing from his usual damaging body attack and switching to a savage overhand right to the head, floored Joey Maxim twice and was all over him from the opening bell last night as he won a unanimous 10-round decision at the Cow Palace. A national audience watching the non title fight on television saw all but the final round, blacked out by a substation power failure here.

A crowd announced at 13,276 paid $109,082.50 and cheered wildly as Olson, a 3-1 favorite, pounded the 175-pound Maxim into submission.

OLSON WEIGHED 169 pounds, nine above his normal figure, but looked faster and hit harder than in any of his previous 20-straight triumphs. Only in the first round, when he concentrated on the body and beat Maxim's torso bright red, did he stick to his normal fighting pattern.

In the second round Maxim went down for an eight-count from two smashing rights to the head. In the ninth, Olson repeated the right and caught the tottering former light heavyweight champion with a left to the jaw as he fell. This time Maxim was up at six.

Maxim, decked only four times previously in his career covering more than 100 fights, said Olson "hits harder than (Archie) Moore does at 175 pounds." Maxim ought to know as the result of losing three times in three years to the light heavyweight champion.

Judge John Bassanelli scored the fight 62-48, Judge Jack Downey 60-50 and Referee Ray Flores 59½-50½. The Associated Press had it 62-48.

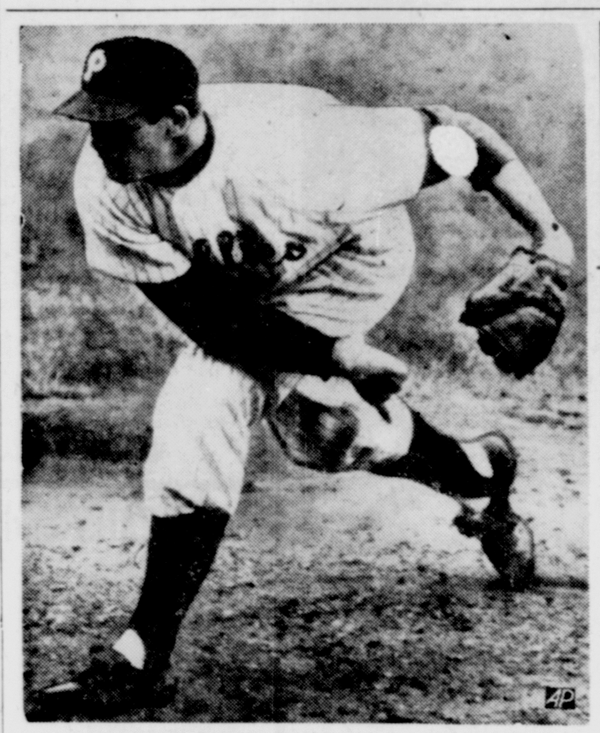
Olson on Decision; Chances Good for Moore Go



PHILLIES' ACE BEARS DOWN—Pitcher Robin Roberts sets his jaw and bears down with his high hard one, in Philadelphia, April 13, as he seeks his openig-game victory for the Phillies over the Giants in the delayed National League opener. Through the first six innings, no Giant batter managed to get a hit off Roberts, who finished a 3-hit performance with a 4-2 win. Roberts is shown at the finish of a smooth follow-through. Alston Is on Campy's List; Roy Dropped to 8th in Order

Brooklyn, April 14 (AP)—Usually mild-mannered and even-tempered, Roy Campanella is steamed to a boiling point because Manager Walter Alston has relegated him to eighth spot in the Brooklyn Dodger batting order.

The slugging catcher, who insists the troublesome left hand that ruined his 1954 season is completely healed, made no attempt to conceal his disgust as he talked about his demotion from the cleanup (fourth) spot for yesterday's opening day game against Pittsburgh.

"That's fine encouragement he (Alston) is giving me," Campy growled, "sending me in to hit with the bat boy. That guy must think I'm a butcher with a bat. Dropping me all the way down to eighth just shows the confidence he has in me.

"IT'S ALL RIGHT with me though if that's the way he wants it," Roy added, bitterly. "I'll hit any place he tells me to. But I'm determined to prove to him that he's wrong when he calls me an eighth place hitter. He only thinks I can't hit but I know I can."

It was pointed out that Campy had not exactly knocked down any fences during the spring training games, hitting only .235 with three home runs. This, following his poorest season in the majors in which his batting average dropped from .312 to .207 certainly was no strong recommendation for a fourth place hitter.

"Look," he exclaimed, "I know I'm not being hard-headed about this. I don't care what I hit in practice games. They don't mean anything. All I'm interested in is the way the hand reacted to catching every day.

"My hand is okay now. That's all that matters to me. I'll hit. I'm certain of that. Maybe he don't have confidence in me. But I have. Lots of it. So I didn't hit much in Florida. Well, I never could hit down there. With the exception of the one in Miami, there's not a park down there with a decent background.

"All my playing days I've been hitting either fourth, fifth or sixth. Now all of a sudden I'm hitting eighth. Heck, I got no right hitting down there when I'm healthy. I never batted eighth even in the little leagues.

"I'M BEING WASTED hitting just ahead of the pitcher. You know what's going to happen. Those pitchers are no dummies out there. They'll never give me a good ball to hit at with men in scoring position. I'll either have to swing at bad balls or take my base on balls. They'd be crazy to pitch to me with the pitcher up next."

Warned that the story might get him in hot water, Campanella grinned wryly:

"So what?" was his reply. "The only thing worse that he can do is have me hitting tenth. he can't do that unless he has me sit on the bench."

P. S.—Campy got one hit in 4 at bats as the Brooks beat the Pirates 6-1.

Bills Are Approved

Albany, April 14 (AP)—Gov. Harriman has approved bills that prohibit for another three years perpetual open seasons and bag limits on black, grey and fox squirrels and hares and cottontail rabbits.

Kartalian-Tuttle Top Local Boxing Card

Amateur boxing returns to the city tonight with the Glasco Athletic Club presenting an all-star card of New England and Adirondack AAU champions at 8:30 at the municipal auditorium.

Ken Barr, Rosendale knockout artist, is slated in a three-rounder. A flock of other standouts are scheduled. Officials for the card include Bill Singer and Lou Shor, judges; timekeeper, Sherwood Davis and Dick McCarthy, announcer.

Comforter, Burroughs Tied For First in Federation

In another sizzling finish, Comforter and Burrough's Club go into the final week of the Federation American League schedule all tied for first place with 46-35 records.

One game off the pace are Clinton Avenue and St. James with 45-36 marks on the year.

St. James threw a monkey wrench into Comforter's hold on first place last night by sweeping three games. Burroughs, at the same time, missed the chance of going into first place by dropping a pair to Trinity Lutheran.

While all of this was going on Clinton Avenue took two from the First Baptists.

Perc Slover rapped 519; Art Crist 519; Harold Pine 515; Doug Kennedy 497; Howard "Hod" Spaulding 490; Jack Spader 461 and Jim Raymond 452.

Team results:

Clinton Avenue (2), First Baptists (1); St. James (3), Comforter (0); Trinity Lutheran (2), Burrough's Club (1).

Basketball

New York—Tom Gola, LaSalle's three-time All-America, was picked by the Philadelphia Warriors and Dick Ricketts of Duquesne, another member of Associated Press All-America team, went to Milwaukee in the National Basketball Assn's. annual draft.

One recent study shows that the average American man walks 9 miles a day and the average woman 10.

Esopus LL Sets Practice Dates

Esopus Legion Little League has set Saturday, April 16, as the date for tryouts for all new candidates for this year's league.

The holdovers will report for tryouts on Saturday, April 23. Unofficial estimates are that 42 of last year's 60 players will return for the 1955 season. Nine of the holdovers played on the all-star squad.

Detroit Is Favorite In Finale

Detroit, April 14 (AP)—The hockey season, 189 days old, comes to an end tonight.

The Detroit Red Wings and Montreal Canadiens—who have played more than 80 games apiece since the start of the season last October—clash in Olympia Stadium in the seventh and deciding game of the Stanley Cup playoffs.

The Wings, who are shooting for their seventh Stanley Cup—which would tie them with Toronto—are unbeaten at home since Dec. 19. They've gone through 23 games in that time. For that reason they are favored over the Canadiens.

St. Louis — (NEA) — Stan Musial has been named to the last seven major league All-Star teams selected by the baseball writers.

San Francisco, April 14 (AP)—The "new" Bobo Olson, who picked up a crushing righthand punch with nine pounds extra weight, is ready for a crack at the light heavyweight championship of the world.

The Hawaiian-born middleweight king, departing from his usual damaging body attack and switching to a savage overhand right to the head, floored Joey Maxim twice and was all over him from the opening bell last night as he won a unanimous 10-round decision at the Cow Palace. A national audience watching the non title fight on television saw all but the final round, blacked out by a substation power failure here.

A crowd announced at 13,276 paid $109,082.50 and cheered wildly as Olson, a 3-1 favorite, pounded the 175-pound Maxim into submission.

OLSON WEIGHED 169 pounds, nine above his normal figure, but looked faster and hit harder than in any of his previous 20-straight triumphs. Only in the first round, when he concentrated on the body and beat Maxim's torso bright red, did he stick to his normal fighting pattern.

In the second round Maxim went down for an eight-count from two smashing rights to the head. In the ninth, Olson repeated the right and caught the tottering former light heavyweight champion with a left to the jaw as he fell. This time Maxim was up at six.

Maxim, decked only four times previously in his career covering more than 100 fights, said Olson "hits harder than (Archie) Moore does at 175 pounds." Maxim ought to know as the result of losing three times in three years to the light heavyweight champion.

Judge John Bassanelli scored the fight 62-48, Judge Jack Downey 60-50 and Referee Ray Flores 59½-50½. The Associated Press had it 62-48.

Wimpy's and Rapp's Take Semi-Finals

Wimpy's and Rapp's are paired for Saturday night's YMCA Basketball finals at 8 o'clock. The rebounding of Bob Kozlowski and John Tomaseski catapulted Rapp's to a handsome 70 to 67 win over Back's last night, with the lead changing hands frequently. Kozlowski canned nine fields for a 21 point individual lead for the winners, and Huyler Van Wagenen poured 29 for Back's.

Off to a slow start, Wimpy's caught up with the Skyline midway in the third period and held the lead to take a 48 to 40 victory from Skyline. The Smith Brothers put their own trade and mark on this win, augmented by Don Wolff's superior floor game. Jake Smith bucketed 16 for Wimpy's. Skyline's leader was Ron Brandt with 17.

ABC Tourney Produces Fifth 3,000 Series

Fort Wayne, Ind., April 14 (AP)—The 1955 American Bowling Congress tournament is only 19 days old and already five 3,000 series have been recorded, equaling the number produced in last year's 45-day tournament.

The latest was a 3,010 series last night by the Knights of Pythias quintet, of Muncie, Ind., good for fifth place in the Open Division standings.

The two other changes yesterday saw Joe Wilman, a member of Bowling's Hall of Fame from Chicago, go into sixth place in the all events with a 1,911 total, and Charles Moore and George Kovach, of Springfield, Ill., put together a 1,259 for fourth place in doubles.

Manhasset Trot Winner

Westbury, April 14 (AP)—Bob Lynbrook, 6-year-old bay gelding owned by the Penney Creek Farms of Abbeville, S. C., won the featured Manhasset Trot in 2:10 at Roosevelt Raceway last night. Driven by Del MacTavish, the big trotter took a half length decision over Gemette Bunter, with Peter Campbell third. The winner was favored in the mutuels and returned $6.10, $4.60 and $3.10.

Wimpy's and Rapp's Take Semi-Finals

Wimpy's and Rapp's are paired for Saturday night's YMCA Basketball finals at 8 o'clock. The rebounding of Bob Kozlowski and John Tomaseski catapulted Rapp's to a handsome 70 to 67 win over Back's last night, with the lead changing hands frequently. Kozlowski canned nine fields for a 21 point individual lead for the winners, and Huyler Van Wagenen poured 29 for Back's.

Off to a slow start, Wimpy's caught up with the Skyline midway in the third period and held the lead to take a 48 to 40 victory from Skyline. The Smith Brothers put their own trade and mark on this win, augmented by Don Wolff's superior floor game. Jake Smith bucketed 16 for Wimpy's. Skyline's leader was Ron Brandt with 17.

TIE A 5-OR 6-FT. LENGTH OF 6-TO 8-LB. TEST MONOFILAMENT NYLON LINE TO THE END OF LIGHTER TEST SPINNING LINES. IT WILL TAKE MORE ABUSE IF YOU HOOK A TOOTHY FISH, OR ONE THAT SAWS LINE AGAINST A ROCK, OR SNAG, DURING ITS FIGHT. USE A BLOOD KNOT TO JOIN LINES SO IT CAN SLIP THROUGH THE ROD'S GUIDES EASILY. IF YOU LOSE THE FISH THE KNOT WILL BREAK, SO YOU WON'T LOSE YOUR LINE.

ABC Tourney Produces Fifth 3,000 Series

Fort Wayne, Ind., April 14 (AP)—The 1955 American Bowling Congress tournament is only 19 days old and already five 3,000 series have been recorded, equaling the number produced in last year's 45-day tournament.

The latest was a 3,010 series last night by the Knights of Pythias quintet, of Muncie, Ind., good for fifth place in the Open Division standings.

The two other changes yesterday saw Joe Wilman, a member of Bowling's Hall of Fame from Chicago, go into sixth place in the all events with a 1,911 total, and Charles Moore and George Kovach, of Springfield, Ill., put together a 1,259 for fourth place in doubles.

Manhasset Trot Winner

Westbury, April 14 (AP)—Bob Lynbrook, 6-year-old bay gelding owned by the Penney Creek Farms of Abbeville, S. C., won the featured Manhasset Trot in 2:10 at Roosevelt Raceway last night. Driven by Del MacTavish, the big trotter took a half length decision over Gemette Bunter, with Peter Campbell third. The winner was favored in the mutuels and returned $6.10, $4.60 and $3.10.

Fog Halts Operations

New York, April 14 (AP)—Operations at La Guardia and Idlewild Airports remained suspended today as a heavy fog clung to the city. Poor visibility slowed ferries and other craft in the harbor and the Hudson river. The Weather Bureau said it did not expect the fog to lift until late in the morning, at the earliest.

Basks in Sunshine

Siracusa, Sicily, April 14 (AP)—For the first time since his arrival on Tuesday, Sir Winston Churchill basked in Sicilian sunshine today. He celebrated by ordering champagne and red and white wines for lunch. Churchill, who retired as prime minister 10 days ago, is spending a two-week holiday here. The first two days were marked by rain and cloudy skies.

Labor Secretary

$1.15, Douglas asked. Mitchell said that, too, would be unsound.

DOUGLAS ASKED if $1.05 would not be a fair mimimum wage pay. Mitchell said: "Now you're approaching an area where it's a matter of judgment."

Douglas then demanded, "are you opposed to $1?" Mitchell replied: "I'm supporting 90 cents as the soundest figure."

Douglas said "I know that, but are you opposed to $1?"

Mitchell said a $1 minimum "would cause very serious adjustments in some industries."

PRESSED AGAIN, he finally said "yes, I'm opposed to $1 on the basis of the arguments I'm presenting here."

There is a strong support in the Senate for a $1 minimum, but some southern Democrats question the wisdom of any increase at all. Whatever legislation reaches the Senate floor seems certain to kick up a first-class fight.

The present 75-cent minimum became effective five years ago. In 1938, when the minimum wage law was first passed, it was 25 cents an hour.

ABOUT 24 MILLION workers are now covered by the law. The broad rule is that is covers those whose work affects interstate commerce.

An increase to 90 cents now, Mitchell testified, would bring higher wages to 1,300,000 workers—the same number, Mitchell said, as directly profited from the increase to 75 cents an hour five years ago.

Since that time, he said, the cost of living has risen 13 per cent. If the minimum wage were increased in exact proportion, he said, it should now be 85 cents an hour.

Labor Secretary

$1.15, Douglas asked. Mitchell said that, too, would be unsound.

DOUGLAS ASKED if $1.05 would not be a fair mimimum wage pay. Mitchell said: "Now you're approaching an area where it's a matter of judgment."

Douglas then demanded, "are you opposed to $1?" Mitchell replied: "I'm supporting 90 cents as the soundest figure."

Douglas said "I know that, but are you opposed to $1?"

Mitchell said a $1 minimum "would cause very serious adjustments in some industries."

PRESSED AGAIN, he finally said "yes, I'm opposed to $1 on the basis of the arguments I'm presenting here."

There is a strong support in the Senate for a $1 minimum, but some southern Democrats question the wisdom of any increase at all. Whatever legislation reaches the Senate floor seems certain to kick up a first-class fight.

The present 75-cent minimum became effective five years ago. In 1938, when the minimum wage law was first passed, it was 25 cents an hour.

ABOUT 24 MILLION workers are now covered by the law. The broad rule is that is covers those whose work affects interstate commerce.

An increase to 90 cents now, Mitchell testified, would bring higher wages to 1,300,000 workers—the same number, Mitchell said, as directly profited from the increase to 75 cents an hour five years ago.

Since that time, he said, the cost of living has risen 13 per cent. If the minimum wage were increased in exact proportion, he said, it should now be 85 cents an hour.

ON THE HOUSE—PAIN TOO!—Richard Taylor, four, has first turn receiving his polio vaccination from nurse, Shirley Benoit, at Berkeley, Calif., April 13, as his brother Stanley, seven, waits his turn. As a part of the company policy all Cutter Laboratory employes' children received free immunizations of the vaccine immediately following report the Salk tests proved successful. The immunization program was carried on under supervision of company's medical director. (AP Wirephoto)

Vaccine Due

meanwhile, advocated action by the government to assure that supplies of the vaccine will be used to best advantage in this country. Estimates are that domestic needs will not be fully met before next year.

In New York last night Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said the foundation has yet to decide on a two-shot or three-shot Salk vaccine plan for the nation's school children.

A COURSE of three shots was given during a five-week period in last year's mass test. Dr. Jonas E. Salk has recommended that the first two shots now be given two to four weeks apart, with the third one being delayed at least seven months.

The two-shot plan would bring protection to an added 15 million children.

As a result of the Salk vaccine report, the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York yesterday cut premiums five per cent on its individual and family hospital expense policies.

In Rome, Italy, government officials said last night that Italian scientists soon will be producing a vaccine against polio.

In the meantime, an Italian government spokesman said, it hopes to get some Salk vaccine from firms in America.

In Paris yesterday, Bernard Lafay, French minister of public health, said he would ask the U. S. government to send enough Salk vaccine to guard against any possible epidemic.

Britain has received a small quantity of the Salk vaccine and will use it experimentally on a few groups of children, the British Medical Research Council announced in London.

"The tests will have to be limited in scope, but they will be intensive," a council spokesman said.

"We must bear in mind that the virus in America may differ slightly from the virus which we have to contend here, so findings here may differ from those in America, and might call for altered procedures," he added.

Switzerland's Health Department today summoned Switzerland's leading polio experts to a conference next week on possible mass use in Switzerland of the Salk polio vaccine.

A health department spokesman said, however, that mass vaccination of Swiss children would probably not be possible before next year.

Shad Are Slow

Reports from the Kingston Point area today indicated that shad are moving slowly up the Hudson, and only scattered catches have been made, to date. The first two were caught here Sunday, and one source said today that no more than two or three others have been netted since. Fishermen are hopeful that next weekend will bring substantial catches.
